Successful Fundraising for the Academic Library Kathryn Dilworth, Laura Sloop Henzl, 2016-10-07 Successful Fundraising for the Academic Library Philanthropy in Higher Education covers fundraising a task that is often grouped into a combination role that may include for example the university museum or performance venue thus diluting the opportunity for successful fundraising Because the traditional model for higher education fundraising entails the cultivation of alumni from specific departments and colleges the library is traditionally left out often becoming a low performing development area with smaller appropriations for fundraising positions Most higher education development professionals consider the library fundraising position a stepping stone into another position with higher pay and more potential for professional advancement down the road rather than as a focus for their career However for universities that invest in development professionals who know how to leverage the mission of libraries to the larger alumni and friend community the results include innovative and successful approaches to messaging that resonates with donors This book provides information that applies to all fundraising professionals and academic leaders looking to strengthen their programs with philanthropic support even those beyond university libraries Makes the case for university libraries as a viable avenue for donor engagement that translates to all academic areas of higher education fundraising Highlights the importance of collaborative relationships and fundraising strategies with academic leaders donors and fundraising staff Outlines strategies that have resulted in fundraising success for academic and research libraries at universities of varying size and culture      Successful Library Fundraising M. Sandra Wood,2014 While libraries strive to provide the services programs and facilities that their patrons and communities want and need funding is needed before these services programs and facilities can be offered These essays draw on the experience of librarians at twelve institutions to offer suggestions for raising funding and donations to cover operating expenses special projects and services and working with library boards and foundations They offer useful information for a variety of public academic and special libraries      Managerial Leadership for Librarians G. Edward Evans,Holland Christie,2017-10-11 Putting library management into the unique context of the not for profit world this work offers you invaluable guidance on how to manage your library effectively Managing a library presents a significantly different challenge than managing a small business a corporation or even a school or charity organization To be effective managers and excel in their careers librarians must understand their unique position in the social landscape and leverage that role to become influential leaders This guide shows librarians how to make the most of their inherent skills and develop new leadership strengths in order to become better library managers advance their careers and sustain their libraries in spite of changing environments and shrinking budgets The book examines many facets of managerial leadership defines what managerial leadership is and describes how to assess and increase leadership skills The chapters also identify the constraints unique to libraries and explain how you can develop positive relationships with government boards turn a vision into a practical strategic plan and exercise fiscal control You will gain invaluable knowledge about fund raising developing political skills advocacy and lobbying and legal and ethical concerns specifically in the library environment The final section of the book is devoted to people skills understanding yourself and others developing staff collaboration negotiation meetings and presentations and creating future success
