The Cambridge Companion to British Black and Asian Literature (1945-2010) Deirdre Osborne, 2016-10-19 Post World War II mass migration to Great Britain altered its demographic composition more markedly than in any other period in its history resulting in a modern multicultural nation state shaped by the ethnic diversity of its citizenry Populations from African Caribbean and South Asian locations arriving in Britain post war brought diasporic sensibilities and literary heritages that have profoundly transformed British national culture leading to a more complex and inclusive sense of its past The Companion to British Black and Asian Literature 1945 2010 examines the creative impact of this rich infusion upon English literature against the backdrop of the seismic social and economic changes triggered by colonialism and migration multiculturalism and contemporary globalization

Robert Pollok's The Course of Time and Literary Theodicy in the Romantic Age Deryl Davis, 2023-11-17 This book explores the contexts and reception history of Robert Pollok's religious epic The Course of Time 1827 one of the best selling long poems of the nineteenth century which has been almost entirely forgotten today Widely read in the United States and across the British Empire the poem's combination of evangelical Calvinism High Romanticism and native Scottishness proved irresistible to many readers This monograph traces the poem's origins as a defense of Biblical authority divine providence and religious orthodoxy against figures like Byron and Joseph Priestley and explores the reasons for The Course of Time's enormous decades long popularity and later precipitous decline A close reading of the poem and an examination of its reception history offers readers important insights into the dynamic relationship between religion and wider culture in the nineteenth century the uses of literature as a vehicle for theological argument and theodicy and the important but often overlooked role that religion played in literary and particularly Scottish Romanticism This work will appeal to scholars of religious history literary history Evangelicalism Romanticism Scottish literature and nineteenth century culture

The Cambridge Companion to Fiction in the Romantic Period Richard Maxwell, Katie Trumpener, 2008-02-21 While poetry has been the genre most closely associated with the Romantic period the novel of the late eighteenth and early nineteenth centuries has attracted many more readers and students in recent years Its canon has been widened to include less well known authors alongside Jane Austen Walter Scott Maria Edgeworth and Thomas Love Peacock Over the last generation especially a remarkable range of popular works from the period have been re-discovered and reread intensively This Companion offers an overview of British fiction written between roughly the mid 1760s and the early 1830s and is an ideal guide to the major authors historical and cultural contexts and later critical reception The contributors to this volume represent the most up to date directions in scholarship charting the ways in which the period's social, political and intellectual redefinitions created new fictional subjects, forms and audiences The Cambridge Companion to the Scottish Enlightenment Alexander Broadie, Craig Smith, 2019-09-26 Provides a comprehensive introduction to the full range of achievements of the Scottish thinkers who so profoundly influenced western culture Literature and Philosophy in Nineteenth-Century British Culture Monika Class, Cian Duffy, 2024-05-20 This is the first volume in a three volume collection of primary sources which examines philosophy and literature in nineteenth century Britain Accompanied by extensive editorial commentary this collection will be of great interest to students and scholars of British Literature and Philosophy A Companion to Medieval Poetry Corinne Saunders, 2010-04-12 MEDIEVAL POETRY In a series of original essays from leading literary scholars this Companion offers a chronological sweep of medieval poetry from Old English to the great genres of romance, narrative and alliterative poetry of the 15th century Beginning in the Anglo Saxon period the volume explores the Old English language and its alliterative tradition before moving on to examine the genres of heroic, devotional wisdom and epic poetry culminating in a discussion of arguably the founding text of the English literary canon the great epic Beowulf In part two the Companion moves on to discuss the linguistic and social changes brought about as a result of the Norman Conquest exploring how this influenced the development of literary genres Essays probe the shifts and continuities in genres such as lyric, chronicle and dream vision and the emergence of new genres such as popular and courtly romance and drama A particular focus is the continuation of the alliterative tradition from the Anglo Saxon period to the fifteenth century A series of chapters on major authors including Chaucer, Gower and Langland provide fresh approaches to reading and studying key texts such as The Canterbury Tales, Piers Plowman and Sir Gawain and the Green Knight Finally the collection examines cultural change at the close of the medieval period and the variety of literature produced in the long fifteenth century including writing by and for women, Scots poetry, clerical and courtly works and secular and sacred drama
