Hope for the Earth Ernst M. Conradie, 2005-05-18 Hope for the Earth explores the viability of an eschatological approach to an ecological theology spirituality and praxis in the South African context The basic intuition of such an eschatological approach is that an environmental praxis can only be empowered on the basis of an adequate understanding of Christian hope Despair in the face of environmental destruction will inevitably lead to a spirit of resignation Where then can a vision of hope that includes hope for the earth be found The author proposes a road map for eschatology based on the observation that eschatology has traditionally responded to three aspects of the human predicament namely 1 the evil effects of sin 2 the problem of finitude and transience and 3 the limitations of human power and knowledge in space Part A This analysis is used to fathom the depths of despair as a result of environmental destruction Part B The Biblical roots and subsequent history of Christian eschatology are discussed briefly Part C Recent contributions in Christian eschatology ecological theology cosmology and South African expressions of hope are explored in depth in search of a vision of hope that includes hope for the earth itself Part D The eschatological road map is used to develop a vision of hope for the earth on the basis of a theology of life life amidst death and destruction life beyond death and eternal life in the presence of God Part E Finally the implications of this vision for an ecological ethos spirituality and praxis in the South African context are indicated Part F

An Alien in a Strange Land Anthony Dancer, 2011-01-01 This unique theological biography traces the emergence of William Stringfellow s theology and the place of biblical politics within it It highlights the centrality of life and work to his theology and the inseparability of one from another It tells the story of an ordinary life made less ordinary radicalized through becoming a biblical person Amidst periods in America of threat and prosperity 1950s and later dissent and protest 1960s Dancer examines not only how Stringfellow held America to account but the way in which he offered a hopeful alternative in which the place of the Bible and the world were both central It explores the way Stringfellow learned that the Bible makes sense of us and not us of it This is biblical politics a radicalizing organizing engagement with the person and the world of which the church seems to sadly have lost both sight and interest The advocacy of Karl Barth his love of the circus his scholarship to LSE the National Conference on Religion and Race his love for his parable of hope Anthony Towne and his prophetic confrontation with Johnson s Great Society all offer clues and insights into this radicalizing force at work in his life Yet it was a life threatening illness and personal confrontation with death in many ways became the final point of radicalization that lead to the production of Ethic for Christians and Other Aliens in a Strange Land ethics as pertinent to today as they are to any age

Models of Contextual Theology Stephen B. Bevans, 2002 Stephen B Bevans s Models of Contextual Theology has become a staple in courses on theological method and as a handbook used by missionaries and other Christians concerned with the Christian tradition s understanding of itself in relation to culture First published in 1992 and now in its seventh printing in English with translations underway into Spanish Korean and Indonesian Bevans s book is a judicious examination of what the terms contextual theology and to contextualize mean In the revised and expanded edition Bevans adds a counter cultural model to the five presented in the first edition the translation the anthropological the praxis the synthetic and the transcendental model This means that readers will be introduced to the way in which figures such as

Stanley Hauerwas John Milbank Lesslie Newbigin and occasionally Pope John Paul II need to be taken into account The author's revisions also incorporate suggestions made by reviewers to enhance the clarity of the original three chapters on the nature of contextual theology and the five models Notoriously Active—God in His World Jeffrey A. Mackey, 2020-02-27 People of God have for many centuries read devotional works along with holy Scripture especially during Advent and Lent Usually these are safe and spiritual somewhat poetic possibly and extremely devotional Here William Stringfellow's writings are brought to bear on Lent with the predictable responses of awe shock surprise conviction identity integrity and such There is no easy spirituality in Stringfellow He is straightforward radically biblical socially aware and spiritually disquieting Lent will never be the same
