The Case For Classical Christian Education:

The Case for Classical Christian Education Douglas Wilson, 2002-11-12 Newspapers are filled with stories about poorly educated children ineffective teachers and cash strapped school districts In this greatly expanded treatment of a topic he first dealt with in Rediscovering the Lost Tools of Learning Douglas Wilson proposes an alternative to government operated school by advocating a return to classical Christian education with its discipline hard work and learning geared to child development stages As an educator Wilson is well equipped to diagnose the cause of America s deteriorating school system and to propose remedies for those committed to their children s best interests in education He maintains that education is essentially religious because it deals with the basic questions about life that require spiritual answers reading and writing are simply the tools Offering a review of classical education and the history of this movement Wilson also reflects on his own involvement in the process of creating educational institutions that embrace that style of learning He details elements needed in a useful curriculum including a list of literary classics Readers will see that classical education offers the best opportunity for academic achievement character growth and spiritual education and that such quality cannot be duplicated in a religiously neutral environment

A Bricklayer's Story Dr. John H. LaManque, 2013-10 Read how trusting in Jesus Christ and calling upon His name helped a fifty nine year old bricklayer to go from bricks to books and beyond This is an inspiring story about how God s Word helped a bricklayer gain the courage to overcome obstacles placed in his path This book is a reminder that life is a journey and when the Lord closes one door he always opens another My message in this book is that we have to turn the doorknob of our hearts to let Jesus in Dr John H LaManque pushes back against the attack on Christian Church values in foreign lands Hindu fundamentalists and Muslims who hate Christians have burnt their churches to the ground and killed Christian people The author sees a greater threat to American Christians coming from within and he identifies the threat as coming from the secular humanist movement in the form of a new religion The new religion is led by groups that follow Marxist theology and includes atheists educators and the media who want to sell the idea that sinful behavior is just another alternative lifestyle

Alice's Adventures in Wonderland Comprehension Guide Ned Bustard, 2004-05 The Gift of Purpose J. Alexander Rutherford, 2020-12-18 Many writers and commentators are convinced that Western culture and society are unravelling Who can blame them As I write this violent protests rage across the USA in response to senseless murders The political sphere has never seemed to virulent and a deadly epidemic has affected all our lives Many are agreed that there are serious problems working themselves out in Western society yet among Christians there is little agreement over the approach we should take to the West and its problems This issue how Christians should approach engagement with culture is not a new one nor is it a uniquely Western issue Christians in every age and in every culture are confronted with this question In response to many today who see it as the Christian responsibility to save the West to preserve its unique cultural heritage and achievements this author argues that our lives in this world need to be governed by three theological themes ecclesiology soteriology and eschatology That is we must prioritize the local church engage with society with the understanding that earthly kingdoms are manifestations of Satan s kingdom and live in light of Christ s imminent return

Catholic education stands in need of renewal for it too has experienced the consequences of the rupture of faith and reason in the modern period Secularism affects Catholic schools as well as public ones when faith remains confined solely to a religion class or the celebration of the Mass Our past provides a model of integration the unity of divine revelations and the liberal arts and a life of wisdom that pursues what is truly highest Modern people too often settle for less little comforts and distractions while the theologians philosophers and educators of the past spur us on to stop at nothing less than God s invitation to enter his divine life This first volume of the Adeodatus Handbook seeks to provide inspiration to return to the central vision of Catholic education an integrated approach to the liberal arts that flows from God s initiative toward us and is ordered toward eternal union with him The essays of this volume unfold the narrative offered in this introduction in more detail We consider them to be the most essential figures who have established the Catholic approach to education Two of them Plato and Aristotle were pagan authors who formed the philosophical basis of the Catholic approach The others flowing from the Incarnation of the Son of God appropriated the truths of nature contemplated by philosophy and drew them into a sacramental synthesis with the truths of divine revelation There can be no genuine Christian education that does help the student to contemplate the whole of reality and to live a life of wisdom rooted in the virtues that perfect human nature while ultimately receptive of the gifts and fruits of the Holy Spirit The majority of the figures addressed in this volume are canonized saints pointing us to the priority of holiness in Catholic education Education serves the ultimate aim of human life our perfect happiness in the beatific vision To reach this we need the support of mentors and friends This requires the concrete embodiment of Christian community within the home and school It can also however flow from our communion with the great sainted educators of our heritage We have inherited their legacy and with their prayers and support we have been tasked with continuing in our own age We will not be able to replicate their efforts but with the grace and inspiration of the Holy Spirit we can make our contribution in educating the youth young adults seminarians and lay people of the Church of God
