Children's Picture Books and Contemporary Egyptian Society Yasmine Motawy, 2025-02-25 A social and political history of two decades of Egyptian neoliberalism through children's picture books published in Egypt in the post 2000 era Children's picture books are some of the most transparently ideological materials available to parents and educators and as cultural objects they are an expression of the zeitgeist of a particular era

They reveal much about the hopes values and aspirations of the society that produces them as well as that society's vision of its place in the wider world at large Children's Picture Books and Contemporary Egyptian Society examines a new wave of Egyptian picture books that was published in the current century to see how these books responded to larger societal trends and transformations in Egypt as well as to explore the ideologies that lie behind them Yasmine Motawy argues that a host of factors including the growth of gated communities and international schooling the proliferation of lucrative literary awards returning Gulf migrants television dramas and nationwide reading advocacy initiatives helped give rise to a new kind of children's picture book in Egypt Motawy focuses on three clusters of selected picture books to investigate the extent to which these books reproduce hegemonic discourses or alternatively open up new horizons of childhood agency and societal transformation The first cluster includes books that directly socialize the child by showing them how things are done in both the domestic sphere and the increasing globalized spaces that children frequent with their families The second cluster aims at reframing cultural notions around femininity through the retelling of folk and fairy tales while the third cluster addresses children's abilities to assess the impact of their actions on their environment and invites them to examine their personal suitability to positions of power and stewardship

Ryan's Pre-order test book Ryan Dingler, Space and Place in Children's Literature, 1789 to the Present Maria Sachiko Cecire, Hannah Field, Malini Roy, 2016-03-09 Focusing on questions of space and locale in children's literature this collection explores how metaphorical and physical space can create landscapes of power knowledge and identity in texts from the early nineteenth century to the present The collection is comprised of four sections that take up the space between children and adults the representation of real world places fantasy travel and locales and the physical space of the children's book as object In their essays the contributors analyze works from a range of sources and traditions by authors such as Sylvia Plath Maria Edgeworth Gloria Anzald a Jenny Robson C S Lewis Elizabeth Knox and Claude Ponti While maintaining a focus on how location and spatiality aid in defining the child's relationship to the world the essays also address themes of borders displacement diaspora exile fantasy gender history home leaving and homecoming hybridity mapping and metatextuality With an epilogue by Philip Pullman in which he discusses his own relationship to image and locale this collection is also a valuable resource for understanding the work of this celebrated author of children's literature
