The Resilient Sector Revisited The New Challenge To Nonprofit America:

The Resilient Sector Revisited Lester M Salamon, 2015-08-17 Nonprofit America is one of the least understood segments of national life yet also one of the most crucial Author Lester Salamon who pioneered the empirical study of the nonprofit sector in the United States provides a wealth of new data to paint a compelling picture of a set of institutions being buffeted by a withering set of challenges yet still finding ways to survive and prosper These challenges however are posing enormous risks to the historic character and role of nonprofits Operating in an increasingly competitive environment in which traditional sources of government and philanthropic support are difficult to maintain nonprofits have turned decisively to the market In the process however they may be losing their raison d'être sacrificing their most crucial missions and risking loss of public understanding and support To remedy this situation Salamon recommends a renewal strategy for the nation's nonprofit sector that begins with a wider articulation and application of the sector's value proposition the attributes that continue to make it deserving of the special privileges and benefits it enjoys Salamon's pithy and accessible book is perfect for nonprofit boards leaders of charitable foundations government officials and students of the nonprofit sector and of public policy as well as anyone looking for guidance on how we go about dealing with public problems in America's increasingly collaborative system of governance

The Resilient Sector Lester M. Salamon, 2003 Like the arteries of a living organism nonprofit organizations carry a life force that has long been a centrepiece of American culture a faith in the capacity of individual action to improve the quality of human life They embody two seemingly contradictory impulses at the heart of American character a deep seated commitment to freedom and individual initiative and an equally fundamental realization that people live in communities and consequently have responsibilities that extend beyond themselves Uniquely among American institutions those in the nonprofit sector blend these competing impulses creating a special class of entities that Alexis de Tocqueville recognized to be more deserving of our attention than any other part of the American experiment
