

INSTALLATION

Fasten drip pan to table with its right edge in line with machine belt slot in table. Fasten knee lifter bracket in location shown in Fig. 1. Assemble it so that lifter rod does not strike drip pan. Screw slots in bracket provide necessary adjustment. Set stopstud to stop the action of knee lifter as soon as presser foot is raised enough to trip hand lever.

LUBRICATION

For the lubrication of the machine, only SINGER OIL (TYPE A or C), supplied by THE SINGER COMPANY, should be used. In order to insure proper function of the machine and to prevent any excess wear of the moving parts and bearings, the machine should be oiled regularly. In case of continuous use, it should be oiled even more often if it is used to produce long seams and run speedily.

Fig. 2 shows the oil filler hole for oil reservoir on top of arm on 211U157 machine.

Fill machine arm reservoir to high mark on oil sight gauge as indicated in Fig. 2.

The machine arm reservoir contains an oil vibrating pump which releases oil only when the machine is operating.

Fig. 3 shows the oil filler hole for hook saddle reservoir on 211U157 and 211U566 machines.

Remove oil gauge as shown in Fig. 3 and fill hook saddle reservoir to full mark on gauge.

Lubricate hook gears and opener gears by applying a generous supply of oil to oil hole indicated in Fig. 3.
