The Austronesians Historical And Comparative Perspectives:

The Austronesians Peter Bellwood, James J. Fox, Darrell Tryon, 2006-09-01 The Austronesian speaking population of the world are estimated to number more than 270 million people living in a broad swathe around half the globe from Madagascar to Easter Island and from Taiwan to New Zealand The seventeen papers in this volume provide a general survey of these diverse populations focusing on their common origins and historical transformations The papers examine current ideas on the linguistics prehistory anthropology and recorded history of the Austronesians The Austronesians Australian National University. Comparative Austronesian Project, 1995 The Austronesians Australian National University. Comparative Austronesian Project, 2006

Austronesian Diaspora and the Ethnogeneses of People in Indonesian Archipelago Truman Simanjuntak, Ingrid Harriet Eileen Pojoh, Muhamad Hisyam, 2006 The Austronesians : historical and comparative perspectives ; a publication of the Department of Anthropology as part of the Comparative Austronesian Project, Research School of Pacific and Asian Studies, Australian National University Canberra Research School of Pacific and Asian Studies, 1995

Southeast Asia Peter Bellwood, Dr Ian Glover, 2023-05-09 This comprehensive and absorbing book traces the cultural history of Southeast Asia from prehistoric especially Neolithic Bronze Iron age times through to the major Hindu and Buddhist civilizations to around AD 1300 Southeast Asia has recently attracted archaeological attention as the locus for the first recorded sea crossings as the region of origin for the Austronesian population dispersal across the Pacific from Neolithic times as an arena for the development of archaeologically rich Neolithic and metal using communities especially in Thailand and Vietnam and as the backdrop for several unique and strikingly monumental Indic civilizations such as the Khmer civilization centred around Angkor Southeast Asia is invaluable to anyone interested in the full history of the region

AUSTRONESIAN DIASPORA Bagyo Prasetyo, Titi Surti Nastiti, Truman Simanjuntak, 2021-01-28 This book is a proceeding from a number of papers presented in The International Symposium on Austronesian Diaspora on 18th to 23rd July 2016 at Nusa Dua Bali which was held by The National Research Centre of Archaeology in cooperation with The Directorate of Cultural Heritage and Museums The symposium is the second event with regard to the Austronesian studies since the first symposium held eleven years ago by the Indonesian Institute of Sciences in cooperation with the International Centre for Prehistoric and Austronesia Study ICPAS in Solo on 28th June to 1st July 2005 with a theme of the Dispersal of the Austronesian and the Ethno geneses of People in the Indonesia Archipelago that was attended by experts from eleven countries The studies on Austronesia are very interesting to discuss because Austronesia is a language family which covers about 1200 languages spoken by populations that inhabit more than half the globe from Madagascar in the west to Easter Island Pacific Area in the east and from Taiwan Micronesia in the north to New Zealand in the south Austronesia is a language family which dispersed before the Western colonization in many places in the world The Austronesian dispersal in very vast islands area is a huge phenomenon in the history of humankind Groups of Austronesian speaking people had emerged in ca 7000 6000 BP in Taiwan before they migrated in 5000 BP to many places in the world bringing with them the Neolithic Culture characterized by sedentary agricultural societies with animal domestication The Austronesian speaking people are distinguished by Southern Mongoloid Race which had the ability to adapt to various types of natural environment that enabled them to develop through space and time The varied geographic environment where they lived as well as intensive interactions with the outside world had created cultural diversities The population of the Austronesian speakers is more than 380 million people and the Indonesian Archipelago is where most of them develop Indonesia also holds a key position in understanding the Austronesians For this reason the Austronesian studies are crucial in the attempt to understand the Indonesian societies in relation to their current cultural roots history and ethno genesis This book discusses six sessions in the symposium The first session is the prologue the second is the keynote paper which is Austronesia an overview the third is Diaspora and Inter regional Connection the fourth is Regional highlight the fifth is Harimau Cave Research Progress while the sixth session is the epilogue which is a synthesis of 37 papers We hope that this book will inspire more researchers to study Austronesia a field of never ending research in Indonesia

Tracking the Neolithic House in Europe Daniela Hofmann, Jessica Smyth, 2012-12-09 The Neolithic period is noted primarily for the change from hunter gatherer societies to agriculture domestication and sedentism This change has been studied in the past by archaeologists observing the movements of plants animals and people But has not been examined by looking at the domestic architecture of the time Along with tracking the movement of sedentism Neolithic houses are also able to show researchers the beginnings of cultural identity group representation through the construction and decoration of these structures Additionally as agriculture moved west and north in this era the architecture and material culture shows this change and its significance Chapters are arranged chronologically so that authors can address differences and similarities of their region to neighboring ones To ensure continuity authors have framed the chapters around the following considerations construction materials and architectural characteristics how houses facilitated or perpetuated Origins, Ancestry and Alliance James J. Fox, Clifford Sather, 2006-10-01 This collection of papers the third in a series of volumes on the work of the Comparative Austronesian Project explores indigenous Austronesian ideas of origin ancestry and alliance and considers the comparative significance of these ideas in social practice The papers examine social practice in a diverse range of societies extending from insular Southeast Asia to the islands of the Pacific
