The Social Imperative Paula Moya, 2015-12-23 In the context of the ongoing crisis in literary criticism The Social Imperative reminds us that while literature will never by itself change the world it remains a powerful tool and important actor in the ongoing struggle to imagine better ways to be human and free Figuring the relationship between reader and text as a type of friendship the book elaborates the social psychological concept of schema to show that our multiple social contexts affect what we perceive and how we feel when we read Championing and modeling a kind of close reading that attends to how literature reflects promotes and contests pervasive sociocultural ideas about race ethnicity gender and sexuality Paula M L Moya demonstrates the power of works of literature by writers such as Junot Diaz Toni Morrison and Helena Maria Viramontes to alter perceptions and reshape cultural imaginaries Insofar as literary fiction is a unique form of engagement with weighty social problems it matters not only which specific works of literature we read and teach but also how we read them and with whom This is what constitutes the social imperative of literature

The Black Humanist Tradition in Anti-Racist Literature Alexandra Hartmann, 2023-05-13 This book presents an intellectual history and theoretical exploration of black humanism since the civil rights era Humanism is a human centered approach to life that considers human beings to be responsible for the world and its course of history Both the heavily theistic climate in the United States as well as the dominance of the Black Church are responsible for black humanism's existence in virtual oblivion For those who believe the world to be one without supernatural interventions human action matters greatly and is the only possible mode for change Humanists are thus committed to promoting the public good through human effort rather than through faith Black humanism originates from the lived experiences of African Americans in a white hegemonic society Viewed from this perspective black humanist cultural expressions are a continuous push to imagine and make room for alternative life options in a racist society Alexandra Hartmann counters religion's hegemonic grasp and uncovers black humanism as a small yet significant tradition in recent African American culture and cultural politics by studying its impact on African American literature and the ensuing anti racist potentials The book demonstrates that black humanism regards subjectivity as embodied and is thus a worldview that is characterized by a fragile hope regarding the possibility of progress racial and otherwise in the country

Ethics and Literary Practice Adam Zachary Newton, 2021-09-09 This volume draws together a diverse array of scholars from across the humanities to formulate and address the question of ethics and literary practice for a new decade In taking up a conjunction whose terms remain productively open to question fifteen essays survey a range of approaches and topics including genre and disciplinary rhetoric emergence theory and literary signification the ethics of alterity of attention and of aesthetics the decolonial and the paracritical neorealism and contingency analogy and affect scripture and national literature From Seamus Heaney to Hannah Arendt Teresa Brennan to Stanley Cavell Ronit Matalon to douard Glissant Uwe Timm to Katherena Vermette Notes for Echo Lake to the Gospel of St Matthew these contributions demonstrate how broadly and fruitfully ramifying its organizing inquiry can be Bringing such multifarious perspectives to the topic feels only more urgent as language meaning and expression enter the crucible of a post truth era

Ardoyn,2021-08 Not a Big Deal asks how texts might work to unsettle readers at a moment when unwelcome information is rejected as fake news or rebutted with alternative facts When readers already recognize defamiliarizing texts as a category how might texts still work toward the goals of defamiliarization When readers refuse to grapple with texts that might shock them or disrupt their extant views about politics race or even narrative itself how can texts elicit real engagement This study draws from philosophy narratology social neuroscience critical theory and numerous other disciplines to read texts ranging from novels and short stories to graphic novels films and fiction broadcasted and podcasted all of which enact curious strategies of disruption while insisting that they do no such thing Following a model traceable to Toni Morrison s criticism and short fiction texts by Kyle Baker Scott Brown Percival Everett Daniel Handler David Robert Mitchell Jordan Peele and Colson Whitehead suggest new strategies for unsettling the category based perceptions behind what Everett calls the insidious colonialist reader s eye which infects America Not a Big Deal examines problems in our perception of the world and of texts and insists we do the same The Migrant in Arab Literature Martina Censi,Maria Elena Paniconi,2022-12-20
