Learning Without Lessons David F. Lancy,2024 In Learning Without Lessons David F Lancy offers the first attempt to review the principles and practices for fostering learning in children that are found in small scale pre industrial communities across the globe and through history His analysis yields a consistent and coherent pedagogy that can be contrasted sharply with the taken for granted pedagogy found in the West His analysis finds that teachers classrooms lessons verbal instruction testing grading praise and the use of symbols are rare or absent from indigenous pedagogy Instead field studies document the prevalence of self guided learners who rely on observation listening learning in play from peers the hands on use of real tools and learning through voluntary participation in everyday activities such as foraging

The Humanitarian Parent Merit Hietanen,2023-11-13 Aid sector staff work in some of the world s most challenging environments from conflict zones to sites of natural disaster and refugee camps For a long time the aid worker was typified by the lone white male flying from place to place and seeing his family during the holidays But now as the world changes and the sector diversifies how can family life be reconciled with the challenges and travel commitments of this particularly difficult career This book delves deep into these challenges exposing the problems that persist and pointing a path for organisations to adopt a more human centred staff centred parent centred feminist approach to humanitarian and development work Drawing on the author s own experiences as an aid worker as well as extensive original interviews and desk research the book looks at the challenges faced by those who aspire to a family life from finding a partner who is willing and able to live in the same location to dating in difficult contexts to being away from home and extended family finding child care and settling children in new countries and cultures Local workers face their own challenges often suffering from a lack of support in comparison to their international colleagues For many the cost is too great and the sector suffers from a brain drain as experienced staff leave It doesn t need to be this way The book points a way for organisations to adopt policies that support mothers and fathers As well as being a useful guide for aid professionals who are themselves navigating these issues the book will be perfect for organisations looking to reform and for students wishing to understand the realities of a career in aid
