Thomas Leitch

Pinterest Reading Challenge Novel:

Reversing the Cult of Speed in Higher Education Jonathan Chambers, Stephannie Gearhart, 2018-10-26 A collection of essays written by arts and humanities scholars across disciplines this book argues that higher education has been compromised by its uncritical acceptance of our culture's standards of productivity, busyness and speed. Inspired by the Slow Movement, contributors explain how and why university culture has come to value productivity over contemplation and rapidity over slowness. Chapter authors argue that the arts and humanities offer a cogent critique of fast culture in higher education and reframe the discussion of the value of their fields by emphasizing the dialectic between speed and slowness.

Library Youth Outreach Kerol Harrod, 2014-01-21 With tightened library budgets, the norm librarians run the risk of cutting back so much that they isolate themselves from their patrons and their communities. This doesn't have to happen. The outreach methods detailed in this book range from simple actions to detailed processes. Each of the 26 chapters provides helpful information for both those new to library outreach and those with years of experience. Teaching Modernist

Women's Writing in English Janine Utell, 2021-04-25 Offers pedagogical techniques for teaching Anglophone modernist writing by Virginia Woolf, Gertrude Stein, Dorothy Richardson, Jean Rhys, Nella Larsen, and others. Gives syllabus suggestions for undergraduate and graduate courses in literature and writing. Covers topics such as feminism, gender identity, canon formation, politics, activism, and war. Suggests many digital humanities approaches. The Scandal of Adaptation Thomas Leitch, 2023-04-21 The essays in this volume seek to expose the scandals of adaptation. Some of them focus on specific adaptations that have been considered scandalous because they portray characters acting in ways that give scandal because they are thought to betray the values enshrined in the texts they adapt, because their composition or reception raises scandalous possibilities those adapted texts had repressed, or because they challenge their audiences in ways those texts had never thought to do. Others consider more general questions arising from the proposition that all adaptation is a scandalous practice that confronts audiences with provocative questions about bowdlerizing, ethics, censorship, contagion, screenwriting, and history. The collection offers a challenge to the continued marginalization of adaptations and adaptation studies and an invitation to change their position by embracing rather than downplaying their ability to scandalize the institutions they affront.

Masculinities in Post-Millennial Popular Romance Eirini Arvanitaki, 2022-05-12 This book focuses on the projection of the hero's masculinity in a selection of post millennial popular romance narratives and attempts to discover if and to what extent this projection reinforces or challenges patriarchal ideas about gender In the majority of these narratives the hero is often presented as a hegemonic alpha male However hegemonic masculinity is not a fixed concept Rather it is subject to continuous change which allows for the emergence of various dominant masculinities Under a poststructuralist lens and through a close textual analysis approach and a gender reading of romance narratives the book suggests that to a certain extent the romance hero could be described as a platform onto which different forms of dominant masculinity are displayed and highlights that these masculinities do not necessarily clash depend on or function as a prerequisite for each other
