

Chapter 24

Completing the Audit

■ Review Questions

24-1 There are four presentation and disclosure-related audit objectives:

PRESENTATION AND DISCLOSURE-RELATED AUDIT OBJECTIVES	DESCRIPTION
Occurrence and rights and obligations	Account-related information as described in the footnotes exists and represents the rights and obligations of the company.
Completeness	All required disclosures are included in the financial statement footnotes.
Accuracy and valuation	Footnote disclosures are accurate and valued correctly.
Classification and understandability	Account balances are appropriately classified and related financial statement disclosures are understandable.

24-2 A financial statement disclosure checklist is an audit tool that summarizes all disclosure requirements contained in generally accepted accounting principles. Auditors use the disclosure checklist to determine that all required disclosures are completely presented and disclosed in the financial statements and accompanying footnotes. This helps the auditor obtain sufficient appropriate evidence about the completeness objective for the presentation and disclosure-related audit objective.

24-3 A contingent liability is a potential future obligation to an outside party for an unknown amount resulting from activities that have already taken place. Some examples would be:

- Pending litigation
- Income tax disputes
- Product warranties
- Notes receivable discounted
- Guarantees of obligations of others
- Unused balances of outstanding letters of credit
