Cli Fi Novel Complete Workbook:

The Noah Myth in Twenty-first-century Cli-fi Novels Helen E. Mundler, 2022 Breaks new ground by both analyzing the literary qualities of four recent rewritings of the Noah myth and contextualizing their concern with climate change within the wider crises of the Anthropocene. With the rise of concern about global warming in recent years, climate change fiction or cli fi has become increasingly important both as a publishing phenomenon and as an area of academic study and research. Flood narratives have become a subsection of cli fi in their own right. This book proposes new readings of four recent rewritings of the Noah myth: Odds Against Tomorrow by Nathaniel Rich, Margaret Atwood's Maddaddam trilogy, When the Floods Came by Clare Morrall, and The Flood by Maggie Gee. Helen E. Mundler's book takes into account the wealth of criticism that has appeared on these texts in recent years, acknowledging important contributions from critics including Adam Trexler, Adeline Johns Putra, and Astrid Bracke. However, her book's strength is that it takes a new approach, going beyond the topicality of the texts and treating them not just as ideological statements but giving them their due as literary artifacts. While the importance of climate change is beyond debate, this book takes a more balanced approach that places it within a wider context of the multiple crises of the Anthropocene. y of the texts and treating them not just as ideological statements but giving them their due as literary artifacts. Cli-Fi and Class Debra J. Rosenthal, Jason de Lara Molesky, 2023-10-09 Since its emergence in the late twentieth century, climate fiction or cli fi has concerned itself as much with economic injustice and popular revolt as with rising seas and soaring temperatures. Indeed, with its insistent focus on redressing social disparities, cli fi might reasonably be classified as a form of protest literature. As environmental crises escalate and inequality intensifies, literary writers and scholars alike have increasingly scrutinized the dual exploitations of the earth's ecosystems and the socioeconomically disadvantaged. Cli-Fi and Class focuses on the representation of class dynamics in climate change narratives. With fifteen essays on the intersection of the economic and the ecological, addressing works ranging from the novels of Joseph Conrad, Cormac McCarthy, and Octavia Butler to the film Black Panther and the Broadway musical Hadestown, this collection unpacks the complex ways economic exploitation impacts planetary well-being and the ways climatic change shapes those inequities in turn.

Futuristic Cars and Space Bicycles Jeremy Withers, 2020-06-04 Given the extensive influence of the transport revolution on the past two centuries—a time when trains trams omnibuses bicycles cars airplanes and so forth were invented and given science fiction's overall obsession with machines and technologies of all kinds it is surprising that scholars have not paid more attention to transportation in this increasingly popular genre Futuristic Cars and Space Bicycles is the first book to examine the history of representations of road transport machines in nineteenth twentieth and twenty first century American science fiction The focus of this study is on two machines of the road that have been locked in a constant often bitter struggle with one another the automobile and the bicycle With chapters ranging from the early science fiction of the pulp magazine era in the 1920s and 1930s to the postcyberpunk of the 1990s and more recent media of the 2000s such as web television zines and comics this book argues that science fiction by and large perceives the car as anything but a marvelous invention of modernity Rather the genre often scorns and ridicules the automobile and instead promotes more sustainable more benign more restrained technologies of movement such as the bicycle

Andreas Malm,Wim Carton,2025-10-07 A scathing critique of proposals to geoengineer our way out of climate disaster by the bestselling authors of Overshoot The world is crossing the 1.5°C global warming limit perhaps exceeding 2°C soon after What is to be done when these boundaries set by the Paris Agreement have been passed In the overshoot era schemes proliferate for muscular adaptation or for new technologies to turn the heat down at a later date by removing CO₂ from the air or blocking sunlight Such technologies are by no means safe they come with immense risks and provide an excuse for those who would prefer to avoid limiting emissions in the present But do they also hold out some potential Can the catastrophe be reversed masked or simply adapted to once it is a fact Or will any such round about measures simply make things worse The Long Heat maps the new front lines in the struggle for a liveable planet and insists on the climate revolution long overdue In the end no technology can absolve us of responsibility for our planet and each other

Proceedings of the NDIEAS-2024
International Symposium on New Dimensions and Ideas in Environmental Anthropology-2024 (NDIEAS 2024)

Tulishree Pradhan,Amareswar Galla,Maria Stoicheva,Amitabh Pandey,2024-06-12 This is an open access book NDIEAS 2024 Discussions on environmental challenges frequently center around human dependence susceptibility and resilience Yet the subject matter of the present anthropological discussion regarding the ecological framework would mainly concentrate on spatial advertising and scientific investigation In this symposium the focus will be expanded to include human anthropology as a fundamental element of the political notion of environmental sustainability and the foundation for effective local national and global actions Humanity's survival entirely depends on the environment However we further rely on sociopolitical and legal frameworks which are open to capture misdirection confusion With this viewpoint in mind the panel discussion will look at how neoliberalism both international and national legal and political frameworks and other factors have influenced how we perceive the world around us It is going to capitalize on environmental anthropology's observations as well as additional crucial elements to evaluate the spread of sustainable solutions to environmental issues and look at the ways in which forces like globalization and technological advancement might give people a false sense of invulnerability While significant the assumptions of mitigation as well as adaptation require as well to be looked into The expansion of industries greater manufacturing and consumerism are goals of globalization and another neoliberal socio economic reconfiguration which has a tendency to encourage human abuse of the environment and reduce our ability to respond to issues related to the environment
