Unit-I

Introduction: Definition of Statistics, Importance and scope of statistics, Limitations of Statistics, Types of Data, Important Sources of Secondary Data; Collection and Presentation of Data; Different Methods of collecting Primary Data: Text, Tabular and graphical Methods of Data presentation; Frequency Distribution, Diagrammatic Presentation of Frequency data.

STRUCTURE OF THE NOTE:

- 1.1 Introduction
- 1.2 Meaning and Definitions of Statistics
- 1.3 Types of Data and Data Sources
- 1.4 Types of Statistics
- 1.5 Scope of Statistics
- 1.6 Importance of Statistics in Business
- 1.7 Limitations of statistics
- 1.8 Summary
- 1.9 Self-Test Questions
- 1.10 Types of Data, Important Sources of Secondary Data; Collection and Presentation of Data; Different Methods of collecting Primary Data: Text, Tabular and graphical Methods of Data presentation; Frequency Distribution, Diagrammatic Presentation of Frequency data.

1.1 INTRODUCTION

For a layman, "Statistics" means numerical information expressed in quantitative terms. This information may relate to objects, subjects, activities, phenomena, or regions of space. As a matter of fact, data have no limits as to their reference, coverage, and scope. At the macro level, these are data on gross national product and shares of agriculture, manufacturing, and services in GDP (Gross Domestic Product).

Studies On The Optimal Search Plan Lecture Notes In Statistics:

Recent Trends in Naval Engineering Research Anthony A. Ruffa, Bourama Toni, 2021-06-12 This multidisciplinary volume is the second in the STEAM H series to feature invited contributions on mathematical applications in naval engineering Seeking a more holistic approach that transcends current scientific boundaries leading experts present interdisciplinary instruments and models on a broad range of topics Each chapter places special emphasis on important methods research directions and applications of analysis within the field Fundamental scientific and mathematical concepts are applied to topics such as microlattice materials in structural dynamics acoustic transmission in low Mach number liquid flow differential cavity ventilation on a symmetric airfoil Kalman smoother metallic foam metamaterials for vibration damping and isolation seal whiskers as a bio inspired model for the reduction of vortex induced vibrations multidimensional integral for multivariate weighted generalized Gaussian distributions minimum uniform search track placement for rectangular regions antennas in the maritime environment the destabilizing impact of non performers in multi agent groups inertial navigation accuracy with bias modeling Carefully peer reviewed and pedagogically presented for a broad readership this volume is perfect to graduate and postdoctoral students interested in interdisciplinary research Researchers in applied mathematics and sciences will find this book an important resource on the latest developments in naval engineering In keeping with the ideals of the STEAM H series this volume will certainly inspire interdisciplinary understanding and collaboration

Case Studies in Environmental Statistics Douglas Nychka, Walter W. Piegorsch, Lawrence H.

Cox, 2012-12-06 This book offers a set of case studies exemplifying the broad range of statistical science used in environmental studies and application The case studies can be used for graduate courses in environmental statistics as a resource for courses in statistics using genuine examples to illustrate statistical methodology and theory and for courses in environmental science Not only are these studies valuable for teaching about an essential cross disciplinary activity but they can also be used to spur new research along directions exposed in these examples The studies reported here resulted from a program of research carried on by the National Institute of Statistical Sciences NISS during the years 1992 1996 NISS was created in 1991 as an initiative of the national statistics organizations with the mission to renew and focus efforts of statistical science on important cross disciplinary problems One of NISS first projects was a cooperative research effort with the U S Environmental Protection Agency EPA on problems of great interest to environmental science and regulation surely one of today s most important cross disciplinary activities With the support and encouragement of Gary Foley Director of the then U S EPA Atmospheric Research and Exposure Assessment Laboratory a project and a research team were assembled by NISS that pursued a program which produced a set of results and products from which this book was drawn

Case Studies in Bayesian Statistics Constantine Gatsonis, Robert E. Kass, Bradley Carlin, Alicia Carriquiry, A. Gelman, Isabella

Verdinelli, Mike West, 2012-12-06 The 4th Workshop on Case Studies in Bayesian Statistics was held at the Carnegie Mellon University campus on September 27 28 1997 As in the past the workshop featured both invited and contributed case studies The former were presented and discussed in detail while the latter were presented in poster format This volume contains the four invited case studies with the accompanying discussion as well as nine contributed papers selected by a refereeing process While most of the case studies in the volume come from biomedical research the reader will also find studies in environmental science and marketing research

INVITED PAPERS

In Modeling Customer Survey Data Linda A Clark William S Cleveland Lorraine Denby and Chuanhai LiD use hierarchical modeling with time series components in for customer value analysis CVA data from Lucent Technologies The data were derived from surveys of customers of the company and its competitors designed to assess relative performance on a spectrum of issues including product and service quality and pricing The model provides a full description of the CVA data with random location and scale effects for survey respondents and longitudinal company effects for each attribute In addition to assessing the performance of specific companies the model allows the empirical exploration of the conceptual basis of consumer value analysis The authors place special emphasis on graphical displays for this complex multivariate set of data and include a wealth of such plots in the paper

Case Studies in Bayesian Statistics, Volume II Constantine Gatsonis, James S. Hodges, Robert E. Kaas, Nozer D. Singpurwalla, 2012-12-06

Like its predecessor this second volume presents detailed applications of Bayesian statistical analysis each of which emphasizes the scientific context of the problems it attempts to solve The emphasis of this volume is on biomedical applications These papers were presented at a workshop at Carnegie Mellon University in 1993

Partially Observed Markov Decision Processes Vikram Krishnamurthy, 2016-03-21 This book covers formulation algorithms and structural results of partially observed Markov decision processes whilst linking theory to real world applications in controlled sensing Computations are kept to a minimum enabling students and researchers in engineering operations research and economics to understand the methods and determine the structure of their optimal solution

AMSTAT News, 1994

Nonparametric Statistics for Stochastic Processes D. Bosq, 2012-12-06 This book is devoted to the theory and applications of nonparametric functional estimation and prediction Chapter 1 provides an overview of inequalities and limit theorems for strong mixing processes Density and regression estimation in discrete time are studied in Chapter 2 and 3 The special rates of convergence which appear in continuous time are presented in Chapters 4 and 5 This second edition is extensively revised and it contains two new chapters Chapter 6 discusses the surprising local time density estimator Chapter 7 gives a detailed account of implementation of nonparametric method and practical examples in economics finance and physics Comparison with ARMA and ARCH methods shows the efficiency of nonparametric forecasting The prerequisite is a knowledge of classical probability theory and statistics Denis Bosq is Professor of Statistics at the University of Paris 6 Pierre et Marie Curie He is Editor in Chief of Statistical Inference for Stochastic Processes and an editor of Journal of Nonparametric Statistics He is an elected member of the International Statistical Institute He has published about 90 papers or works in nonparametric statistics and four books Model-Oriented Design of Experiments Valerii V. Fedorov, Peter Hackl, 1997-06-20 Here the authors explain the basic ideas so as to generate interest in modern problems of experimental design The topics discussed include designs for inference based on nonlinear models designs for models with random parameters and stochastic processes designs for model discrimination and incorrectly specified contaminated models as well as examples of designs in functional spaces Since the authors avoid technical details the book assumes only a moderate background in calculus matrix algebra and statistics However at many places hints are given as to how readers may enhance and adopt the basic ideas for advanced problems or applications This allows the book to be used for courses at different levels as well as serving as a useful reference for graduate students and researchers in statistics and engineering

Stochastic Models, Statistical Methods, and Algorithms in Image Analysis Piero Barone, Arnaldo Frigessi, Mauro Piccioni, 2012-12-06 This volume comprises a collection of papers by world renowned experts on image analysis The papers range from survey articles to research papers and from theoretical topics such as simulated annealing through to applied image reconstruction It covers applications as diverse as biomedicine astronomy and geophysics As a result any researcher working on image analysis will find this book provides an up to date overview of the field and in addition the extensive bibliographies will make this a useful reference Statistical Inference for Spatial Poisson Processes Yu A.

Kutoyants, 2012-12-06 This work is devoted to several problems of parametric mainly and nonparametric estimation through the observation of Poisson processes defined on general spaces Poisson processes are quite popular in applied research and therefore they attract the attention of many statisticians There are a lot of good books on point processes and many of them contain chapters devoted to statistical inference for general and particular models of processes There are even chapters on statistical estimation problems for inhomogeneous Poisson processes in asymptotic statements Nevertheless it seems that the asymptotic theory of estimation for nonlinear models of Poisson processes needs some development Here nonlinear means the models of inhomogeneous Poisson processes with intensity function nonlinearly depending on unknown parameters In such situations the estimators usually cannot be written in exact form and are given as solutions of some equations However the models can be quite fruitful in engineering problems and the existing computing algorithms are sufficiently powerful to calculate these estimators Therefore the properties of estimators can be interesting too
