Doug Mann

Structural Idealism A Theory Of Social And Historical Explanation:

Structural Idealism Douglas Ian Mann,1997 Structural Idealism Douglas Mann,2006-01-01 Do we determine our actions or are our actions ruled by the structure of our society Does our culture create us or do we create our culture Within history and social theory there is a fundamental division of opinion between those who explain human action by considering the intentions reasons and motives of individuals and those who use broader social structures Structural Idealism presents a theory of social and historical explanation which argues that idealists such as Hegel who champion human agency and materialists such as Marx who support social structure have grasped but part of a larger truth The book contends that we have to explain human actions simultaneously by both the ideas human actors bring to a situation and the way in which previous actions have created social structures that condition those ideas Through this realization we can see how all forms of knowledge from the historical roots of modern philosophy to today s popular culture both condition and are conditioned by structural ideals This book challenges our perception of how cultures and ideals are formed and shows that while structural ideals allow people to co operate as they work toward goals their own or those of their community these images of perfection so easily accepted as the unalterable structure of our society can be changed and are changed by individuals Structural Idealism asks us to think beneath the surface of our society and will be of special interest to philosophers sociologists historians and cultural theorists

Structural Idealism Doug Mann,2002-05-21 Annotation A challenge to our perception of how cultures and ideals are formed this book shows that while structural ideals allow people to co operate as they work toward goals their own or those of their community these images of perfection so easily accepted as the unalterable structure of our society can be changed and are changed by individuals

Between Ideals and Realities: Elucidating the Role of the Media in Promoting Human Rights Gitanjali Wolfermann,2010-10-29 The presence and influence of the media in modern times has increased to a point where they have seamlessly permeated every aspect of contemporary life a situation that has led some to attribute them ideal qualities to promote and strengthen human rights values while others perceive their commercial interests as an obstacle to perform such a task This dissertation analyses the role of the media in promoting human rights based primarily on a theoretical discussion which examines the problem from four different angles the idealistic perception mainly promoted by the United Nations the realistic notion defended by media theories the challenges to the traditional media structure posed by the spread use of ICTs and the analysis of the main contributions and limitations of the theory of Development Communication in merging both the idealistic and the realistic perceptions The discussion reveals the existence of both common grounds and well as constraints for the media to perform the task of promoting human rights a main conclusion being the perception that their role although relevant is only a supportive one which needs to be seen in conjunction with the collaboration of other social agents in order to fully strengthen human rights values and standards

BLINDNESS? Revd Dr Gabriel J. Anan PhD, 2025-03-17 This book attempts to investigate and ascertain spiritual and natural truth because TRUTH is the most powerful force that dictates in all aspects of the life of humanity The expectation of truth is a forceful requirement for every one alive in the areas of relationships legal issues social matters education and many other things in the fabric of the society especially in spiritual things where Salvation of the soul is concerned Turkey's Foreign Policy Narratives Toni Alaranta, 2022-01-22 This book offers a comprehensive account of Turkey's foreign policy narratives in a period of global power shifts By examining international and national historical processes the author highlights narrative processes and traditions that describe Turkey and its position in world politics He also analyzes how global power shifts such as the rise of China affect Turkey's increasingly active and confusing foreign policy and the narratives associated with it The book covers topics such as Kemalist modernization Islamic conservative views of the New World Order Turkey's relations with non Western countries such as Russia and China and Turkish narratives of the Syrian war and the COVID 19 pandemic It is intended for scholars of international relations and European and Middle Eastern politics and appeals to anyone interested in Turkish history and politics

Sociological Theory and Educational Reality Alan Barcan, 1993 An examination of the major classical sociological theories relevant to education and of the rise and decline of the new sociology of education Author also discusses the vexed questions of equality of opportunity the relationship between school and society the growth of educational bureaucracies and the roles of state church and family in education in Australia since 1949 Includes endnotes tables and index

Between Reason and History David S. Owen, 2012-02-01 Between Reason and History examines the role of the idea of progress both in Jürgen Habermas's critical social theory and in critical social theory in general The reception to Habermas's magnum opus The Theory of Communicative Action has tended to downplay the theory of social evolution it contains but there are no in depth examinations of this aspect of Habermas's critical theory This book fills this gap by providing a comprehensive and detailed examination of Habermas's theory of social evolution its significance within the wider scope of his critical social theory and the importance of a theoretical understanding of history for any adequate critical social theory

Structuralist Analysis in Contemporary Social Thought (RLE Social Theory) Miriam Glucksmann, 2014-08-21 The primary concern of this book is to investigate whether or not structuralism constitutes a distinctive framework in the social sciences The author focuses on two major structuralist thinkers Louis Althusser and Claude Lévi Strauss She analyses and compares the structure of their theory and places them within the context of their respective disciplines Dr Glucksmann began working on this book at a time when structuralism was at the height of its popularity in France and was thought to be a homogenous alternative to bourgeois sociology The progress of her study implicitly reflects the developments and divergences within structuralist thought that have emerged since then In particular she examines the differences between the political and philosophical thought of Althusser and Lévi Strauss which have become increasingly manifest
