Studies in Perspective Jan Vredeman de Vries, 2014-03-05 When the Renaissance reached Northern Europe Jan Vredeman de Vries 1527 1604 ranked among its most influential advocates His books of architectural engravings opened new avenues of invention reflecting the era's artistic crosscurrents Their combination of Northern and Southern elements forms a powerful expression of sixteenth century Netherlands culture and constitutes a new style that spread throughout Germany Scandinavia and the British Isles This book the last and greatest of Vredeman's works perpetuated not only the Renaissance interest in perspective but also the important work done by Dürer from whom Vredeman acquired much of his knowledge These engravings include exteriors of architectural structures Gothic interiors gardens medieval townscapes and views into domes or vaults and down many tiered stairwells More than 70 plates offer a fascinating collection for any art lover

Modern Perspectives in Western Art History W. Eugene Kleinbauer, Medieval Academy of America, 1989-01-01 A collection of essays that reflect the breadth of twentieth century scholarship in art history Kleinbauer has sought to illustrate the variety of methods scholars have developed for conveying the unfolding of the arts in the Western world Originally published by Holt Rinehart and Winston 1971

Contemporary Perspectives on Architectural Organicism Gary Huafan He, Skender Luarasi, 2023-06-07 This project is born out of similar questions and discussions on the topic of organicism emergent from two critical strands regarding the discourse of organic self generation one dealing with the problem of stopping in the design processes in history and the other with the organic legacy of style in the nineteenth century as a preeminent form of aesthetic ideology The epistemologies of self generation outlined by enlightenment and critical philosophy provided the model for the discursive formations of modern urban planning and architecture The form of the organism was thought to calibrate modernism's infinite extension The architectural organicism of today does not take on the language of the biological sciences as they did in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries but rather the image of complex systems be they computational informational geo ecological or even ontological aesthetic networks What is retained from the modernity of yesterday is the ideology of endless self generation Revisiting such a topic feels relevant now in a time when the idea of endless generation is rendered more suspect than ever amid an ever increasing speed and complexity of artificial intelligence AI networks The essays collected in this book offer a variety of critiques of the modernist idea of endless growth in the fields of architecture literature philosophy and the history of science They range in scope from theoretical and speculative to analytic and critical and from studies of the history of modernity to reflections of our contemporary world Far from advocating a return to the romantic forms of nineteenth century naturphilosophie this project focuses on probing organicism for new forms of critique and emergent subjectivities in a contemporary post pandemic constellation of neo naturalism in design climate change complex systems and information networks This book will be of interest to a broad range of researchers and professionals in architecture and art history historians of science visual artists and scholars in the humanities more generally Painterly Perspective and Piety John F. Moffitt, 2014-01-10 While the Renaissance is generally perceived to be a secular movement the majority of large artworks executed in 15th century Italy were from ecclesiastical commissions Because of the nature of primarily basilica plan churches a parishioner's view was directed by the diminishing parallel lines formed by the walls of the structure Appearing to converge upon a mutual point this resulted in an artistic phenomenon known as the vanishing point As applied to ecclesiastical artwork the Catholic Vanishing Point CVP was deliberately situated upon or aligned with a given object such as the Eucharist wafer or Host the head of Christ or the womb of the Virgin Mary possessing great symbolic significance in Roman liturgy Masaccio's fresco painting of the Trinity circa 1427 in the Florentine church of Santa Maria Novella analyzed in physical and symbolic detail provides the first illustration of a consistently employed linear perspective within an ecclesiastical setting Leonardo's Last Supper Venetian's St Lucy Altarpiece and Tintoretto's Transfiguration illustrate the continuation of this use of liturgical perspective Phase I/II

Archaeological Research Plan Jay F. Custer, David Charles Bachman, David J. Grettler, 1987 Architecture Post Mortem Donald Kunze, David Bertolini, Simone Brott, 2016-04-15 Architecture Post Mortem surveys architecture's encounter with death decline and ruination following late capitalism As the world moves closer to an economic abyss that many perceive to be the death of capital contraction and crisis are no longer mere phases of normal market fluctuations but rather the irruption of the unconscious of ideology itself Post mortem is that historical moment wherein architecture's symbolic contract with capital is put on stage naked to all Architecture is not irrelevant to fiscal and political contagion as is commonly believed it is the victim and penetrating analytical agent of the current crisis As the very apparatus for modernity's guilt and unfulfilled drives modernity's debt architecture is that ideological element that functions as a master signifier of its own destruction ordering all other signifiers and modes of signification beneath it It is under these conditions that architecture theory has retreated to an Alamo of history a final desert outpost where history has been asked to transcend itself For architecture's hoped for utopia always involves an apocalypse This timely collection of essays reformulates architecture's relation to modernity via the operational death drive architecture is but a passage between life and death This collection includes essays by Kazi K Ashraf David Bertolini Simone Brott Peggy Deamer Didem Ekici Paul Emmons Donald Kunze Todd McGowan Gevorg Hartoonian Nadir Lahiji Erika Naginski and Dennis Maher Advances in Environment, Behavior, and Design Erwin H. Zube, Gary T. Moore, 2013-03-08 This third volume in Advances in Environment Behavior and Design follows the conceptual framework adopted in the previous two volumes see the Preface to Volume 1 1987 It is organized into five sections advances in theory advances in place user group and sociobehavioral research and advances in research utilization The authors of this volume represent a wide spectrum of the multi disciplinary environment behavior and design field including architecture environmental psychology facility management geography human factors sociology and urban design The volume offers international perspectives from North America Carole Despres from Canada several authors from the U S

Europe Martin Krampen from Germany Martin Symes from England and New Zealand David Kernohan More so than any of the previous volumes they are drawn from both academia and professional practice While there continues to be a continuity in format in the series we are actively exploring new directions that are on the cutting edges of the field and bode well for a more integrated future This volume will further develop the themes of design and professional practice to complement the earlier emphases on theory research and methods
