PRINCIPLES OF TACTICAL COMBAT CASUALTY CARE TCCC The principles of Tactical Combat Casualty Care are fundamentally different from those of traditional civilian trauma care where most medical providers and medics train. These differences are based on both the unique patterns and types of wounds that are suffered in combat and the tactical conditions medical personnel face in combat. Unique combat wounds and tactical conditions make it difficult to determine which intervention to perform at what time. Besides addressing a casualty's medical condition, responding medical personnel must also address the tactical problems faced while providing care in combat. A medically correct intervention at the wrong time may lead to further casualties. Put another way, good medicine may be a bad tactical decision which can get the rescuer and the casualty killed. To successfully navigate these issues, medical providers must have skills and training oriented to combat trauma care as opposed to civilian trauma care. The specifics of casualty care in the tactical setting will depend on the tactical situation, the injuries sustained by the casualty, the knowledge and skills of the first responder, and the medical equipment at hand. In contrast to a hospital Emergency Department setting where the patient IS the mission, on the battlefield care of casualties sustained is only PART of the mission. TCCC recognizes this fact and structures its guidelines to accomplish three primary goals: 1. Treat the casualty, 2. Prevent additional casualties, 3. Complete the mission. In thinking about the management of combat casualties, it is helpful to divide care into three distinct phases, each with its own characteristics and limitations. Tactical Combat Casualty Care Handbook, United States Army, 2017-05-17. Tactical Combat Casualty Care (TCCC) has saved hundreds of lives during our nation's conflicts in Iraq and Afghanistan. Nearly 90 percent of combat fatalities occur before a casualty reaches a medical treatment facility. Therefore, the prehospital phase of care is needed to focus on reducing the number of combat deaths. However, few military physicians have had training in this area, and at the onset of hostilities, most combat medics, corpsmen, and pararescue personnel in the U.S. military have been trained to perform battlefield trauma care through civilian-based trauma courses. These courses are not designed for the prehospital combat environment and do not reflect current practices in the area of prehospital care. TCCC was created to train Soldiers and medical personnel on current best practices for medical treatment from the point of injury to evacuation to Role 3 facilities.

U.S. Army Special Warfare Medical Group SPECIAL OPERATIONS COMBAT MEDICAL SKILLS SUSTAINMENT COURSE: Tactical Combat Casualty Care (TCCC) Training For The SOF Advanced Tactical Practitioner (ATP) , Scope a USSOCOM's principle function is to prepare SOF to carry out assigned missions. This responsibility is derived from US Code Title 10 Section 167. In addition to organizing training and equipping SOF for unique missions, medical education is fundamental to fulfilling this law. Title 10 explicit responsibilities include development of strategy, doctrine, tactics, conducting specialized courses of medical instruction for commissioned and non-commissioned officers, and monitoring the medical education and professional certification of officers and enlisted personnel. USSOCOM's medical education and certification responsibilities are inherent responsibilities of developing strategy, doctrine, and tactics. b The Commander, United States

Special Operations Command CDRUSSOCOM has the service like responsibility of providing joint training and education venues that specialize in the art and science of joint Special Operations and its medical support. These efforts complete the education and training picture within the Department of Defense DOD. While each of the Services and the joint community provide education and training to fill a particular niche i.e. naval warfare, air warfare, joint warfare, etc., the Joint Special Operations Medical Training Center JSOMTC within USSOCOM and the Air Force's Pararescue PJ course provides training to fill the medical niche of joint SOF core task requirements. SOF medical training and certification is force wide designed to initiate, maintain, and/or enhance medical skills of those SOF medics and non medics who are required to perform the unique global multi-discipline mission of USSOCOM. Within the parameters of this directive as outlined by first reference Glossary Section III, USSOCOM's primary responsibility is the medical education and training and certification of SOF. A secondary responsibility is the training and education of select DOD interagency and international military personnel in the requirements, capabilities, and limitations of joint special operations organizations. Fostering a mutual understanding ensures the proper application of SOF and the enhancement of joint combined and interagency medical operations. General. In support of the Global War On Terrorism GWOT, Special Operations medical personnel often find themselves providing care for both trauma and non-traumatic medical emergencies beyond the Forward Edge of the Battlefield Area Forward Line Of Troops often in non-linear environments that may be far forward of any supporting medical infrastructure. This directive identifies the authority, mission, command relationships, functions, and responsibilities of the United States Special Operations Command as directed under Section 167 Title 10 of US Code to provide SOF medics with the required skill sets. In order to define and administer this SOF Medical skill set, USSOCOM has established a SOF Emergency Medical Services EMS State that is administered by the Command Surgeon. Medics who successfully complete the required academic requirements as defined within this directive will thus be known as SOF Advanced Tactical Practitioners ATP.
