The engines are fitted with a heat exchanger for thermodynamic, controlled fresh water cooling of the engine block, cylinder heads and exhaust manifold. The exhaust manifold cooling pump is designed so that it also cools at the same time.

The engines are lubricated by means of a pressure lubrication system, where an oil pump supplies lubricating oil to all the lubricating points in the correct quantities at all engine speeds. The pressure in the T6-type engines are designed to be fed through a pressure-lubrication system at the engine block.

The cover part of the pressure-lubrication system is an oil cooler.

The fuel system is well protected from interruptions during running by means of an electric, replaceable fuel filter. On the TAMD60 engines the fuel injection pump is large mounted under the other engine from the pump filter in a bracket.
