ALIVE Manuel Kretzer, Ludger Hovestadt, 2014-09-23 In times where the very concept of nature is questioned not only in its philosophical dimension but in the core of its biological materiality we need to reconsider the interrelations between architecture and nature This not only applies to strategies on environmental responsibility but equally on anticipatory human behavior and cultural or demographic variety To address these challenges this book proposes to embrace the unknown and cultivate the architectural discipline towards an integrated and cross disciplinary practice It unravels compelling innovative and forward thinking design narratives by leading international practitioners and researchers who investigate novel associations between architecture nature and humanity for a future alive architecture Structured around the three closely cross linked core themes bioinspiration materiability and intelligence the book engages with the starting point of an emerging new design field where the symbiosis of physics biology computing and design promises the redefinition of what we call architecture today

Human Emotions and the Origins of Bioethics Susi Ferrarello, 2020-12-06 This book provides a unique phenomenological dialogue between psychology and philosophy on the origin of bioethics that shows the importance of bringing emotions into bioethical discourse Divided into two parts the book begins by defining bioethics and explaining the importance of emotions in making us human allowing us to consider life holistically Ferrarello argues that emotions and bioethics are better served when they are combined and that dismissing emotions as nothing more than a nuisance to our rationality has created a society that does not fit our human nature Chapters explore how ethics relate to intimate life and how ethical agents determine themselves within their surrounding world uniquely and interrogatively using bioethics to consider not only medical dilemmas but also issues concerning environmental and individual well being By addressing personal interpersonal and societal problems as dynamically interconnected in bioethical problems she helps us to renew our sense of responsibility toward a good quality of life This interdisciplinary book is invaluable reading for students of health science psychology and philosophy as well as for those interested in the link between emotions and bioethical discourse from both a psychological and philosophical perspective
