Subcommittee on Agriculture, Rural Development, and Related Agencies,1996 Pandemics and Resilience: Lessons we should have learned from Zika David M. Berube,2023-05-05 The aim of the book was to produce the most comprehensive examination of a pandemic that has ever been attempted By cataloging the full extent of the Zika pandemic this book will be the most complete history and epistemic contextualization ever attempted to date The work should function as the primary source for students researchers and scholars who need information about the Zika pandemic This book examines the technical literature digital and popular literature and online materials to fully contextualize this event and provide a bona fide record of this event and its implications for the future It is somewhat serendipitous that while this work was underway we are going through another pandemic One of the primary lessons we did not learn by Zika was pandemic events will return repeatedly and we need to learn from each one of them to prepare the planet for the next one Just because Zika seemed to have died out does not make it less important We were lucky that the virus evolved into what seemed to be a less virulent version of itself and the vector mosquitoes were concentrated elsewhere Finally this book represents a tour de force in scholarship involving nearly 4 000 sources of information and does not shy from a detailed examination of the controversies conspiracies and long term consequences when we avoid learning from outbreaks such as Zika Schizophrenia Steven Hyman,2001 First published in 2002 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company Agriculture, Rural Development, and Related Agencies Appropriations for Fiscal Year 1997: Commodity Futures Trading Commission United States.
