Interpretation, Limitations and Future Direction

The topic frequency graph provides an overview of the most prevalent themes discussed by UK university students on Reddit over time. Notably, while the chart shows an increasing trend for all topics as the subreddit grows, it particularly highlights Topic 4 (Mental Health), becoming the most prominent over time. This shift in focus aligns with broader societal conversations about mental health, suggesting that UK university students are increasingly open to discussing these issues online. Additionally, the data shows a consistent presence of academic concerns (e.g., Topic 1: Academic Pressure) and social aspects (e.g., Topic 2: Social Life), indicating that these remain core aspects of the university experience. The prevalence of topics such as job, university choice and application, accommodation and finance highlights the practical challenges that students face in their university journey. Interestingly, students use such social media platforms as an avenue of seeking help and advice from other UK university students who have experienced similar concerns. These discussions not only provide valuable peer-to-peer support but also offer insights into the common struggles and decision-making processes of students.

However, it is important to acknowledge the limitations of this analysis. The data is derived from a single online platform (Reddit) and may not represent the entire population of UK university students. Additionally, the analysis focuses on the frequency of topics, but does not capture the sentiment or context of the discussions. Future research could explore these aspects to provide a more comprehensive understanding of student perspectives.
