2025 Edition Booktube Recommendations:

The Digital Future of English Simone Murray, 2025-07-18 More than any other academic discipline literary studies is the creation of print culture How then can it thrive in the digital era Early 1990s predictions of the book's imminent demise presented a simplistic either/or choice between the legacy of moribund print and triumphalist digital technology Yet we have grown to experience the two media as complexly interdependent and even complementary Clearly digital does not kill print But literary studies in the digital era cannot simply resume business as usual It is urgently necessary to reconsider the discipline's founding assumptions in light of digital technology The digital era prompts a rethinking of literary studies' object of study as well as its methods theories audiences and pedagogical practices What counts as literature necessarily shifts in an age of proliferating born-digital texts and do-it-yourself DIY online publication Where should literary studies sit institutionally and how might it graft contextually oriented social sciences methods onto its traditionally humanistic mode of textual analysis Why should literary study continue to marginalize emotional responses to texts when online communities bond via readerly affect Who is the audience for literary criticism in an age where expertise is routinely challenged yet communication with global book-loving publics has never been technologically easier Finally how can we utilize digital tools to rejuvenate literary studies pedagogy and help English staff better connect with millennial-age students Literary studies has been convulsed for decades by debates over electronic literature and more recently digitally aided distant reading But these discussions still mostly confine themselves to demarcating our proper object of study We need to think more expansively about digital technology's impact on the underpinning tenets of the discipline Literary Media Studies is pitched at fellow literary scholars book historians media theorists cultural sociologists digital humanists and those working at the interface of these converging disciplines It models constructive engagement with contemporary digital culture Most importantly it brings a burst of sorely needed optimism to the question of literary studies' digital future Pop-Lit: Essays in Retrospection Subir Dhar, Monikinkini Basu, Swarnendu Dam, 2025-08-19 This edited volume offers a comprehensive collection of critical essays that explore the multifaceted role of popular culture in society Through a variety of theoretical lenses the essays examine how popular culture from mass media to everyday cultural practices shapes societal norms values and power structures Drawing on seminal works from thinkers such as Matthew Arnold the Frankfurt School and the Birmingham School the book traces the evolution of cultural studies and its impact on understanding mass culture Essays address key topics such as the commodification of culture the passive consumption promoted by the culture industry and the active agency of audiences in interpreting and resisting cultural messages The volume also highlights how popular culture reflects and challenges dominant ideologies emphasizing the role of marginalized groups in creating alternative cultural meanings With its wide-ranging perspectives this book provides valuable insights into the intersection of culture politics and everyday life Book Launch Strategies: Jessica Collins, 2025-08-14 Book Launch Strategies Launching a book is more than how Powers of Reading Peter Szendy, 2025-03-11 A historical literary and philosophical study that transforms our understanding of reading Peter Szendy offers a subtle persuasive and unprecedented account of the time of reading and its scene of address one that is as archaic as it is contemporary When we read are we listening to a voice or being read to If it is not a private and monologic exercise how do we understand the populated scene of reading What reads when we read and how does reading push and pull between temporalities and voices Why do we keep leaving the text when we seek to obey the injunction to stay within its terms Questions such as these produce a fresh even startling consideration of a wide range of literary and popular texts including Hobbes Leviathan Flaubert's Madame Bovary Kant's moral injunctions Sade Valéry Blanchot and de Certeau but also modern fiction film audiobooks and hypertext The power of reading turns out to belong to its surprising engagement with time and direction the deliberate reader stays close but strays tries to fill in the gaps but gets pushed back by a countercurrent The key to the text is sought outside only to be led back to the text and its failure to deliver a final answer Equally at odds with older versions of literary formalism that insist on the self-referentiality of the text as well as contextualists who scour an external social order to discover the truth of the text Szendy approaches that very conflict as an oscillation constitutive of reading itself Paradoxically reading is sustained precisely by what interrupts its teleological flow The result is a comic profound and timely reconceptualization of reading which rushes forward only to find itself pushed back into the heart of the text which discovers that this incessant breaking from the text this headlong rushing ahead to the world outside the text is a sequence of overreach delay and return that forms the ragged rhythm of reading itself Powers of Reading is a patient brilliant and illuminating inquiry into the crosscurrents of voice and address one that speaks to the speed and complexity of our time how we are upended by our forward propulsions to consider how multiple voice action and passivity are all rearranged in the scene of reading Judith Butler Distinguished Professor in the Graduate School University of California Berkeley Reading and Writing for Pleasure Teresa Cremin, Helen Hendry, Liz Chamberlain, Samantha Jayne Hulston, 2025-09-12 Reading and writing for pleasure represent issues of global concern and interest in policy research and practice underpinned by evidence illustrating their importance for young people's academic social and emotional experiences and outcomes In the face of a sustained decline in children's enjoyment in both reading and writing this highly significant book presents findings from a three year study of research and practice that nurtures young people's engagement as readers and writers The book offers a rich understanding of the study highlighting the commonalities and synergies identified from the research literature and diverse practice contexts It introduces a new and powerful Reading and Writing Framework for Practice for schools and charitable literacy programmes The authors offer practical strategies and recommendations throughout for practitioners researchers and policy makers who wish to advance this agenda in their own contexts Areas covered include The nature of reading and writing for pleasure Literate identities Motivating readers and writers Social interactions Role models and connected communities Future research practice and policy This field defining text is a key resource for all those committed to halting the decline in young people's engagement as volitional readers and writers

Digital Social Reading Federico Piazola, 2025-01-21 How digital social reading apps are powerfully changing and nurturing the way we read Conventional wisdom would have us believe that digital technology is a threat to reading but in Digital Social Reading Federico Piazola argues that reading socially through digital media can help people grow a passion for reading and in some cases even enhance text comprehension Digital social reading DSR is a term that encompasses a wide variety of practices related to the activity of reading and using digital technologies and platforms websites social media mobile apps to share thoughts and impressions about books with others This book is the first systematization of DSR practices drawing on case studies from Wattpad AO3 and Goodreads on a worldwide scale Using a combination of qualitative and computational methods Piazola offers fresh insight into the reading experience on the scale of big data He discusses the impact of digital technology on reading skills and shows that a change of methodological perspective is necessary to understand the positive potential of DSR for promoting reading more broadly He argues that it is not just the medium that changes but also the context and the attitudes of readers He also asserts that grassroots media and open bottom up communities are crucial to the success of many reading practices today especially with young audiences Atravesados Trevor Boffone, Cristina Herrera, 2025-02-17 Contributions by Frederick Luis Aldama Trevor Boffone T Jackie Cuevas Cristina Herrera Alexander Lalama Angel Daniel Matos Regina Marie Mills Joseph Isaac Miranda Jesus Monta o Domino Renee Perez Regan Postma Monta o Cristina Rhodes and Sonia Alejandra Rodriguez Atravesados Essays on Queer Latinx Young Adult Literature shows how Latinx queer YA writers discard the same old story and offer critical representations of queerness that broaden YA writing and insist on the presence of queer teens of color Atravesados draws on foundational Chicana queer theorist Gloria Anzald'a's notion of atravesados to speak to the spectrum of queer youth Latinidades as they materialize in YA literature Los atravesados according to Anzald'a are the squint eyed the perverse the queer the troublesome the mongrel the on Power Remi Kalir,2025-04-15 An interdisciplinary exploration of annotation that shows how this participatory act marks public memory struggles for justice and social change Annotation the seemingly simple act of marking a text is often diminished as a marginal practice It is prohibited in physical objects and considered irrelevant to social and political concerns But what if annotation were reimagined as a critical and civic literacy that can inscribe public memory struggles for justice and social change In Re Marks on Power education researcher Remi Kalir argues that enduring traces of annotation can be read and re written to advance counternarratives and more just social futures Kalir s interdisciplinary approach examines annotation in archives and libraries on walls and in books atop maps and monuments and along byways and all manner of margins to describe the relevance of re marks With a series of vivid and wide ranging cases Kalir describes how groups of annotators make public remarks of resistance and creativity often with simple tools and accessible methods These annotations alter familiar texts oppose hateful ideology and broadcast solidarity and social activism Among the book's fresh reads of annotation are considerations of how Harriet Tubman's legacy is remembered and honored how the US Mexico border was defined and is restored how problematic public monuments are contested and reimagined and how books featuring LGBTQIA topics are classified censored and celebrated Remarks on Power honors the actions of annotators whether eminent or anonymous and highlights how material traces have mediated justice oriented possibility Throughout this book the author makes visible a new social language of annotation that can be read across time and texts
