Situated Learning Situated Learning:

Situated Learning Jean Lave, Etienne Wenger, 1991-09-27 In this important theoretical treatise the authors push forward the notion of situated learning that learning is fundamentally a social process

Situated Learning Perspectives Hilary McLellan, 1996 Situated Learning in Interpreter Education Annette Miner, Brenda Nicodemus, 2021-07-16 This book provides a theoretical and pragmatic guide to the use of situated learning within structured interpreting programs. Proponents of situated learning theory believe that meaningful learning occurs when students interact with others in the social contexts in which they will be working. With such interactions students have the opportunity to apply their theoretical knowledge to authentic contexts that they will encounter throughout their professional lives. While a limited number of research articles exist about the use of situated learning in interpreter education this is the first full book to provide the foundations for situated learning theory show how to implement situated learning in interpreter education and offer practical applications for maximizing authenticity in interpreting classrooms

The Transfer of Learning Sarah Leberman, Lex McDonald, 2016-02-17 The book addresses a crucial issue for all involved in education and training the transfer of learning to new and different contexts. Educators, employers and learners face the problem of ensuring that what is learnt in the classroom is able to be adapted and used in the workplace. It focuses on adult learners in professional and vocational contexts. The authors provide an accessible book on the transfer of learning which draws on multi-disciplinary perspectives from education, psychology and management. The Transfer of Learning will be useful both for postgraduate students and for practitioners wanting to deepen their understanding of transfer and for those interested in practical applications. It combines theory and practice from international research and the authors' own case studies of transfer involving learners engaged in professional development and study towards qualifications. Theories of adult learning, change and lifelong learning are discussed in relation to the transfer of learning. The purpose of this book is to emphasise to tertiary educators and trainers the importance of transfer and in doing so highlight the participants' voices as central foci in coming to an understanding of the process. By doing this it balances the literature which has to date emphasized transfer from a trainer's and/or organization's perspective. There has been little if any substantive material on tertiary transfer issues and yet demands are increasing for tertiary education providers to be more accountable and more focused on developing students' ability to use their learning in everyday work situations. The book is unique in that it adopts a phenomenological perspective and underscores the significance of the participants' voices in understanding issues

An Analysis of Jean Lave and Etienne Wenger's Situated Learning Charmi Patel, 2018-02-21 Social anthropologist Jean Lave and computer scientist Etienne Wenger's seminal Situated Learning helped change the fields of cognitive science and pedagogy by approaching learning from a novel angle. Traditionally theories of learning and education had focused on processes of cognition, the mental processes of knowledge formation that occur within an individual. Lave and Wenger chose to look at learning not as an individual process but a social one As so often with the creative thinking process a small simple shift in emphasis was all that was required to show things in an entirely different light What Situated Learning illustrated and emphasized was that learning is dependent on its social situation Even though the most effective way to learn is through interaction with experts and peers in a community organized around a common interest the traditional cognitive learning model failed to account for the way in which learners interact with their community of practice The new hypothesis that Lave and Wenger developed was that learning can be seen as a continuously evolving set of relationships situated within a social context This allowed Lave and Wenger to place discussions of apprenticeship and workplace learning on a new footing and led in turn to the book's impressive impact in business and management scholarship Situated Learning ,1994 Enhancing Reflection within Situated Learning Alexis M. Stoner,Katherine S. Cennamo,2018-02-21 This innovative brief provides guidance on promoting reflection in situated learning by incorporating mindfulness strategies tapping into a surge of research interest in exploring mindfulness as an instructional strategy associated with positive learning outcomes It illustrates the benefits of continuous reflection within situated learning and how mindfulness can be incorporated before during and after the learning experience to enhance the reflective experience Critically the authors present a new conceptual model that synthesizes theories and methods from three different areas of study mindfulness situated learning and reflection to provide a new perspective and instructional approach that has great potential to positively impact outcomes in situated learning Among the other topics covered Strategies for reflection in situated learning Strategies for reflection in action in situated learning Mindfulness strategies for situated learning A conceptual model incorporating mindfulness to enhance reflection Enhancing Reflection within Situated Learning is an exciting and pioneering resource that offers practical guidance to educators and instructional designers interested in incorporating methods and approaches for integrating mindfulness and reflection across instructional environments People in Social Organisations and Enterprises. Motivation, Knowledge Transfer and Situated Learning in Their Communities of Practice Christopher Whitworth,Zbigniew Zontek,2018-02-21 This book functions as a research monograph about people Specifically why and how do people help others What do they do how and why do they get involved who do they learn from and teach also what do they learn and share Restating this research question in academic English What motivates individuals to join and take part in social enterprises and other organizations what behaviours do they exhibit do they join or form groups that can be labelled as communities of practice and do they undertake and deliver situated learning as part of their knowledge transfer processes The topic has been studied qualitatively via interpretative phenomenological analysis and related methodologies Over 30 interviews from disparate groups in the UK and Poland have been analysed in depth The outcome has been to identify common factors in individuals' behaviours motivations and interactions Diversifying Schools David Hung,Longkai Wu,Dennis Kwek,2022-02-04 This book discusses the strategies that the Singapore Education System has embarked on to encourage school change and innovations It documents the change journey of Specialized Schools and Future Schools in Singapore with a view to understand the key tenets that enable school wide change and reform The intents for change and reform are to anchor the education system to the basic foundations and principles of education and yet enable the system as a whole to be malleable to change and globalization It shows how Singapore enables diversity within a structured environment through innovations in Specialized and Future Schools and highlights the systemic rationale behind various efforts in Specialized and Future Schools and the kinds of adaptations schools have made to leverage structures and make adjustments for their contexts Handbook of Research on Educational Communications and Technology David H.
