Supervision that Improves Teaching and Learning Susan & Glanz Sullivan (Jeffrey), 2014 Supervision That Improves Teaching and Learning Susan Sullivan, Jeffrey Glanz, 2009-05-27 In this exciting new edition of Supervision That Improves Teaching the authors have taken their reflective clinical supervision process to a new level and focused on the demands that diversity and technology have placed on the supervision cycle The authors recognize that if supervision of instruction is to be successful we must address these needs Therefore they have built this third edition around the context of diversity within a technological environment Our new scenarios describe teaching and learning dilemmas for English Language Learners An additional case study also highlights English Language Learners within the context of Critical Friends groups and new observation tools center on the diversity of our schools Finally suggestions abound for use of the book within a technological environment from blogs and wikis to strategies for teaching a hybrid or completely online course Sullivan and Glanz have also addressed the dilemmas of preserving meaningful supervision in an era of high stakes testing and local state and national standards The authors reflective clinical supervision model encourages and prepares educators to be thoughtful collaborators in improving classroom instruction And they have extended the options for teacher observation to a thorough but manageable set of tools for standards based supervision Outstanding additions to the third edition include New scenarios cases and tools focus on the need for differentiated instruction for diverse and exceptional populations in the schools Use of this book to evaluate the technological environment in schools in areas such as distance learning online training blogging and research The authors draw a clearer distinction between evaluation and supervision in this 3rd edition The timeline for the Supervision cycle in Chapter 1 has been updated and revised Observation Instruments in Chapter 3 have been revised to be more reader and user friendly Strategies and observation tools for maintaining reflective supervision in a standards based environment This bestselling approach continues to offer interpersonal tools for initiating and providing feedback on classroom observations alternative approaches to common supervision practices and the tools necessary for present and future educational leaders to develop dynamic conversations about learning between and among educators the essence of what effective supervision is really about Preparing Effective Special Education Teachers Nancy Mamlin, 2012-01-27

What tools are in the toolkit of an excellent special educator and how can teacher preparation programs provide these tools in the most efficient effective way possible This practical clearly written book is grounded in current research and policy as well as the author s extensive experience as a teacher educator It identifies what special education teachers need to know to work competently with students with a wide variety of learning challenges and disabilities Chapters present specific guidelines for helping teacher candidates build critical skills for instruction and assessment get the most out of field placements and collaborate successfully with other school personnel and with parents Teacher Induction and Mentoring

Juanjo Mena, Anthony Clarke, 2022-01-01 This book draws together various theoretical and research based perspectives to examine the institutionalization of mentoring processes for beginning teachers Teacher induction defined as the guidance provided to new teachers is increasingly gaining traction as a key stage in promoting quality education Major efforts have been put into reducing transitional challenges from being a student teacher to a practicing teacher optimizing professional relationships and socialization into school dynamics and increasing teacher retention Mentoring has been proven to add benefits in assisting beginning teachers during the early years of their teaching career because it provides the required knowledge and skills to face uncertain school scenarios and the complexities of practice However teacher induction programs are not part of regular instruction in many countries The lack of teacher training during the induction phase might result in lower levels of commitment professional isolation or even attrition This book calls for more concrete mentoring processes for early career teachers and questions how this can be put into practice Instructional Supervision Sally J.

Zepeda, 2016-08-12 This essential text for prospective school leaders enrolled in instructional supervision and evaluation courses provides the knowledge and practical tools to improve teacher effectiveness Melding theory and practice this book is a definitive guide to successful classroom observations pre and post observation conferences and approaches such as action research peer coaching and mentoring The fourth edition of this text has been thoroughly updated to meet the needs of school leaders in today s educational climate Features new to this edition include Additional and updated tools to support school leaders in conducting effective classroom observations and assessing teachers professional learning needs New case studies suggested fieldwork and extended reflections to outline practical applications for the strategies discussed Suggested readings to supplement the information included in this book Expanded discussions of professional learning communities and the topic of motivation New chapters on teacher evaluation and instructional strategies that support personalization and learning technologies This book offers strategies to work with teachers at all stages in their careers laying a strong foundation for effective instructional supervision in PreK 12 schools Many of the templates and tools in this book are also available as free eResource downloads from our website www.routledge.com/9781138649347

Leading and Learning Together Lynda Tredway, Matthew Militello, Joseph Flessa, 2024-12 Leadership coupled with learning is an ongoing process in which everyone has a participatory role in school or district change efforts Providing a useful antidote to the plethora of packaged curriculum and external professional development providers this book focuses on reclaiming agency advocacy and inquiry for leaders and teachers in the places they know best their schools and districts Doing so requires imagination cooperation and transparency As such the authors provide evidence from multiple school and district educators who are cultivating change from within by disrupting and dismantling systems and drawing on internal assets to address equity driven challenges As a result educators can and should become researchers of their own practices This resource offers a set of evidence based principles processes and protocols that increase equitable access and support educators to breathe joy and justice into schools and communities Book Features Educational change reimaged as reinvesting in the collective power of the people closest to the issues Guidance based on evidence from multiple school and district change efforts documented and described by the authors Use of evidence to organize more productive informal and formal professional learning driven by practitioner agency and inquiry Text boxes called Voices From the Field provide stories of practices from practitioner researchers Access to useful and equitable processes and protocols for the professional learning of educators Evidence from school and district leaders underscores the complex work of leading and learning from within and how to do it Resources in Education, 2000
