Subject Cataloging Division, 1989 From Alice to Algernon Holly Blackford, 2024-01-12 During the late Victorian period Charles Darwin's theories took the world by storm and the impact of evolution on research into the developing human mind was impossible to overlook. Thereafter the study of children and childhood became a means to theorize, imagine, and apply the concept of evolution in a broad range of cultural productions. Beginning with the watershed Victorian era From Alice to Algernon: The Evolution of Child Consciousness in the Novel examines the creative transformation these theories underwent as they filtered through the modern novel, especially those that examined the mind of the child. By examining the connection between authors and trends in child psychology, author Holly Blackford explains why many modern novels began to focus on child cognition as a site for intellectual and artistic exploration. In each chapter of this book, select novels of the late nineteenth or twentieth century are paired with a specific moment or movement from the history of developmental psychology. Novels such as Mark Twain's Huckleberry Finn and Henry James's What Maisie Knew or Radclyffe Hall's less canonical The Well of Loneliness and even Mark Haddon's The Curious Incident of the Dog in the Night-Time showcase major questions about human epistemology through their child characters. From Lewis Carroll's Alice and her looking glass to Richard Wright's Bigger, Thomas and the murder of Mary Dalton to the chaotic Neverland symbolizing the unmappable child's brain, a literary tradition of child consciousness has emerged as an experimental site for the unstable concepts of evolution, civilization, and development. By situating literature about children within concurrent psychological discourses, Blackford demonstrates how the modern novel contributed to the world's understanding of the boundless wonders and discernible limits of child consciousness.

The Myth of Persephone in Girls' Fantasy Literature Holly Blackford, 2012-04-23 This book explores the myth of Persephone and Demeter as it informs the development of a long discourse about civilization, the development of children, child psychology, and fantasy literature. The pattern in the myth of girls who descend into underworlds and negotiate a partial return to the earth is a marked feature of girls' literature, and the cycle also reflects the change of seasons and fertility/death. Tracing the parallel between the myth and girls' literature enables an understanding of how female development is mourned but deemed necessary for the reproduction of culture. Blackford looks at the function of toys in children's literature as a representation of the myth's narcissus, combining this approach with classic interpretations of the myth as expressive of female psychology, mother/daughter object relations, hieros gamos, fertility, coupling rituals, transition from matriarchal to patriarchal order, and excursions into the creative/artistic unconscious. The story of Persephone's separation from her mother and abduction into the underworld is explored as an expression of ambivalence about female development in works such as Hoffmann's Nutcracker and Mouse King, Alcott's Little Women, Brontë's Wuthering Heights, Barrie's Peter and Wendy, Burnett's The Secret Garden, White's Charlotte's Web, Rowling's Harry Potter and the Chamber of Secrets, Meyer's Twilight, and Gaiman's Coraline. With this book Blackford offers a consideration of how literature for the young squares with broader canons, how classics flexibly and uniquely speak through novels that enjoy broad appeal, and how female traditions are embedded in novels by both men and women. Problems of the 19th & 20th Centuries, 1963. Lonely Planet Greece, Lonely Planet, 1998.
