What's the Buzz? Mark Le Messurier, Madhavi Nawana Parker, 2011-03-28 Some children and young adolescents find it much harder to learn and flexibly use social skills. What's the Buzz is an easy to implement 16 lesson play based social skills training program that will improve student confidence, relationships and reduce conflict. Written for teachers who support children and adolescents who may struggle with life for a variety of reasons, this book will help them to expand their socialisation skills, for example how to meet people and be friendly, gain attention in positive ways, follow instructions, give compliments and maintain conversations, understand their feelings and develop an emotional resiliency to better cope with the inevitable emotional highs and lows. Life offers learn how to read the feelings of others and appropriately respond to their needs, value positive thinking, for example how to stay calm under pressure, deal with worry, handle disappointment and best respond to put downs and bullying and participate in play based activities and games so that they acquire skills incidentally. Designed for use in schools by teachers, school counsellors, special needs coordinators, teaching assistants, parents and allied health professionals, the role plays, games and team building activities presented in each lesson will help to build class unity and cohesion whilst the template format allows students to experience success, feel confident and be ready to develop more complex skills.

Macro Cultural Psychology Carl Ratner, 2012 This book articulates a bold new systematic theory of psychology, culture and their interrelation. It explains how macro cultural factors, social institutions, cultural artifacts and cultural concepts are the cornerstones of society and how they form the origins and characteristics of psychological phenomena. This theory is used to explain the diversity of psychological phenomena such as emotions, self intelligence, sexuality, memory, reasoning, perception, developmental processes and mental illness. Ratner draws upon Lev Vygotsky's sociocultural psychology, Bronfenbrenner's ecological psychology as well as work in sociology, anthropology, history and geography to explore the political implications and assumptions of psychological theories regarding social policy and reform. The theory outlined here addresses current theoretical and political issues such as agency, realism, objectivity, subjectivism, structuralism, postmodernism and multiculturalism. In this sense the book articulates a systematic political philosophy of mind to examine numerous approaches to psychology including indigenous psychology, cross cultural psychology, activity theory, discourse analysis, mainstream psychology and evolutionary psychology.
