

Example 2.5: A satellite control system

Figure 2.4 shows the control system for a simple satellite model. The satellite, depicted in Figure 2.5(a), is simply a rotational unit inertia controlled by a pair of thrusters, which can provide either a positive constant torque U (positive firing) or a negative torque $-U$ (negative firing). The purpose of the control system is to maintain the satellite antenna at a zero angle by appropriately firing the thrusters. The mathematical model of the satellite is where u is the torque provided by the thrusters and θ is the satellite angle.

$$\ddot{\theta} = u$$

Let us examine on the phase plane the behavior of the control system when the thrusters are fired according to the control law

$$u(t) = \begin{cases} -U & \text{if } \theta > 0 \\ U & \text{if } \theta < 0 \end{cases} \quad (2.7)$$ which means that the thrusters push in the counterclockwise direction if θ is positive, and vice versa.

As the first step of the phase portrait generation, let us consider the phase portrait when the thrusters provide a positive torque U . The dynamics of the system is which implies that $\dot{\theta} d\dot{\theta} = U d\theta$. Therefore, the phase trajectories are a family of parabolas defined by $$\dot{\theta}^2 = 2U\theta + c_1$$

When the thrusters provide a negative torque $-U$, the phase trajectories are similarly found to be
