Again, Dangerous Visions: Essays in Cultural Materialism Andrew Milner, 2018-08-07 Again Dangerous Visions: Essays in Cultural Materialism brings together twenty six essays charting the development of Andrew Milner's distinctively Orwellian version of cultural materialism between 1981 and 2015. The essays address three substantive areas: the sociology of literature, cultural materialism and the cultural politics of the New Left and utopian and science fiction studies. They are bookended by two conversations between Milner and his editor J. R. Burgmann: the first looking back retrospectively on the development of Milner's thought, the second looking forward prospectively towards the future of academia, the political left and science fiction.

Water Stories in the Anthropocene Angelo Monaco, 2024-10-21 Water Stories in the Anthropocene explores how climate change has emerged as a major theme in our daily lives as it poses a myriad of economic, scientific, political and cultural challenges in the age of the Anthropocene. In all its forms and manifestations, climate change is primarily a water crisis. Water scarcity, droughts, floods, deluge, rising sea levels, ice melting, wetlands loss and sea pollution are among the main threats posed by climate change, wreaking havoc on both human and nonhuman forms of life. This book engages with instances of extreme events related to water: droughts, floods, deluges and the impact of climate change on some waterbodies, seas and wetlands in contemporary Anglophone novels. By taking into account a corpus of novels ranging from the various areas of the Anglophone world and thus shuttling between the Global North and the Global South, the book reads these novels as water stories. This volume pays attention to the pervasive presence of water in all aspects of our lives, thus showing how narratives can offer insightful accounts of the present water crisis. Alternating between an econarratological perspective, reflections on the Anthropocene and the human/nonhuman imbrications within the blue humanities, the book contributes significantly to the considerations of the imaginative possibilities of these water stories, showing how narratives can offer insightful accounts of the present water crisis.

The Cambridge Companion to Literature and the Anthropocene John Parham, 2021-06-17 From catastrophe to utopia, the most comprehensive survey yet of how literature can speak to the Anthropocene.

Storying the Ecocatastrophe Helena Duffy, Katarina Leppänen, 2024-05-31 How do writers and artists represent the climate catastrophe so that their works stir audiences to political action or at least raise their environmental awareness without however appearing didactic? Storying the Ecocatastrophe attempts to answer this question while interrogating the potential of narrative to become a viable political force. The collection of essays achieves this by examining the representational strategies and ideological goals of contemporary cultural productions about climate change. These productions have been created across different genres such as the traditional novel, dance performance, solarpunk, economic report, collage and space opera, as well as across different languages and cultures. The volume's twelve chapters demonstrate that rising temperatures, erratic weather, extinction of species, depletion of resources and coastal erosion and flooding are an effect of our abusive relationship with nature. They also show that our use of nuclear power extraction of natural resources and extensive farming including heavy reliance on pesticides intersect with intrahuman violence as fleshed out by heteropatriarchy racism neo colonialism and capitalism They finally argue that human activity has indirectly contributed to other contemporary crises namely the migrant crisis and the spread of contagious diseases such as Covid 19 Chapter 8 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at http www taylorfrancis com under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4 0 license

The Anthropocene Working Group and the Global Debate Around a New Geological Epoch Martin Bohle,Boris Holzer,Leslie Sklair,Fabienne Will,2025-03-03 This book examines the role of the Anthropocene Working Group AWG in public and scholarly discussions of the meaning of the Anthropocene proposal The status of the Anthropocene both as a geoscientific concept and as a cultural concept becoming increasingly familiar in the public sphere has been highly controversial While geoscientists focus on possible geological markers and periodisation the social sciences environmental humanities and creative arts have taken up the Anthropocene as a cultural concept to make sense of the planetary environmental crisis and contemporary society This book documents intra inter and transdisciplinary debates particularly although not limited to how different scholarly disciplines have responded to the Anthropocene proposal The authors analyse

how the AWG has become the focal point of a debate that straddles the boundaries between academic disciplines and public perceptions of science The AWG thus serves as a case of the globalisation of science in terms of the global interconnectedness of scientific disciplines and the cultural significance of the Anthropocene proposal
