Filterworld Kyle Chayka, 2024-01-23 The story told here is instrumental to your own Jared Lanier Timely erudite important Ayad Akhtar What happens when our cultural and artistic lives are dictated to us by an algorithm What does it mean when shareability supersedes innovation How can we make a choice when the options have been so carefully arranged for us From coffee shops to city grids to TikTok feeds and Netflix homepages the world over algorithmic recommendations prescribe our experiences This network of mathematically determined choices the Filterworld has taken over almost unnoticed as we've grown accustomed to an insipid new normal But to have our tastes behaviours and emotions governed by computers calls the very notion of free will into question Internationally recognized journalist and New Yorker staff writer Kyle Chayka journeys through this ever tightening web woven by algorithms He explores how online and offline spaces alike have been engineered for seamless consumption How the lowest common denominator is promoted at the expense of the complex diverse or challenging How users of technology contend with data driven equations that promise to anticipate their desires but often get them wrong How the Filterworld is determining the very shape of culture itself Chayka skilfully and compellingly traces this creeping machine guided curation that influences not just what culture we consume but what culture is produced In doing so he attempts to answer to the most urgent question currently facing us is personal freedom ever again possible on the Internet Filterworld is a fascinating history of the rise of the algorithm and an important investigation into where it could take us next if we let it

Money and Marketing in the Art World Henrik Hagtvedt, 2024-10-21 How does the art market choose its winners thereby also deciding what millions of visitors to galleries and museums will view year after year Whereas art historical writing and contemporary commentary tend to highlight the efforts of specific artists this book illustrates how money and marketing in combination with general trends play decisive roles in shaping the art world and in propelling specific artists and artworks to positions of prominence Today perhaps more than ever before the high profile art world is primarily shaped by buyers and those who cater to buyers The actual artists although most visible to the public tend to play a secondary role The time seems particularly ripe for transparency about how the art world works given the growth in the art market media attention on and popular interest in high priced art and controversy surrounding public funding for art and the value of art for contemporary society With a combination of marketplace observations marketing insights and relevant research findings this book contributes to increased transparency while providing thought provoking digressions and anecdotes along the way Money

Player vs. Monster Jaroslav Svelch,2023-02-07 An ode to the gruesome game characters we love to beat from the monsters of D D to the mutants of The Last of Us and what they tell us about ourselves Since the early days of video games monsters have played pivotal roles as dangers to be avoided level bosses to be defeated or targets to be destroyed for extra points But why is the figure of the monster so important in gaming and how have video games come to shape our culture s conceptions of monstrosity To answer these questions Player vs Monster explores the past half century of monsters in games

The City Since 9/11 Keith Wilhite, 2016-03-04 Charting the intersection of aesthetic representation and the material conditions of urban space The City Since 9 11 posits that the contemporary metropolis provides a significant context for reassessing theoretical concerns related to narrative identity home and personal precarity In the years since the September 11 attacks writers and filmmakers have explored urban spaces as contested sites shaped by the prevailing discourses of neoliberalism homeland security and the war on terror but also haunted by an absence in the landscape that registers loss and prefigures future menace In works of literature film and television the city emerges as a paradoxical space of permanence and vulnerability and a convergence point for anxieties about globalization structural inequality and apocalyptic violence Building on previous scholarship addressing trauma and the spectacle of terror the contributors also draw upon works of philosophy urban studies and postmodern geography to theorize how literary and visual representations expose the persistent conflicts that arise as cities rebuild in the shadow of past ruins Their essays advance new lines of argument that clarify art s role in contemporary debates about spatial practices gentrification cosmopolitanism memory and history nostalgia the uncanny and the abject postmodern virtuality the politics of realism and the economic and social life of cities The book offers fresh readings of familiar post 9 11 novels such as Jonathan Safran Foer s Extremely Loud Incredibly Close but it also considers works by Teju Cole Joseph O Neill Silver Krieger Colum McCann Ronald Sukenick Jonathan Lethem Thomas Pynchon Colson Whitehead Paul Auster William Gibson Amitav Ghosh and Katherine Boo In addition The City Since 9 11 includes essays on the films Children of Men Hugo and the adaptation of Extremely Loud Incredibly Close chapters on the television series The Bridge The Killing and The Wire and an analysis of Michael Arad s Reflecting Absence and the 9 11 Memorial
