Interpretation, Limitations and Future Direction

The topic frequency graph provides an overview of the most prevalent themes discussed by UK university students on Reddit over time. Notably, while the chart shows an increasing trend for all topics as the subreddit grows, it particularly highlights Topic 4 (Mental Health), becoming the most prominent over time. This shift in focus aligns with broader societal concerns regarding mental health, especially in the wake of the COVID-19 pandemic. The data also reveals cyclical patterns in the prevalence of certain topics, such as financial struggles (Topic 2) and social life (Topic 3), which may be influenced by seasonal factors or specific university events. Furthermore, the graph underscores the importance of student support services, as topics related to mental health and academic pressure consistently show high prevalence. These findings suggest that university administrators and support services should continue to prioritize mental health resources and provide timely assistance to students facing challenges. The graph also highlights the evolving nature of student concerns, with newer topics like university policies and campus safety emerging as significant themes in the later years of the study.

Limitations: The analysis is based on self-reported data from a single online platform (Reddit), which may not capture the full range of student experiences. Additionally, the study focuses on UK university students, limiting the generalizability of the findings to other countries or educational systems. Future research could explore the impact of specific university events or policies on student sentiment and investigate the long-term effects of the COVID-19 pandemic on student mental health and academic performance.
