The Ashgate Research Companion to Imperial Germany Matthew Jefferies, 2016-03-03 Germany's imperial era 1871-1918 continues to attract both scholars and the general public alike The American historian Roger Chickering has referred to the historiography on the Kaiserreich as an extraordinary body of historical scholarship whose quality and diversity stands comparison with that of any other episode in European history This Companion is a significant addition to this body of scholarship with the emphasis very much on the present and future Questions of continuity remain a vital and necessary line of historical enquiry and while it may have been short lived the Kaiserreich remains central to modern German and European history The volume allows 25 experts from across the globe to write at length about the state of research in their own specialist fields offering original insights as well as historiographical reflections and rounded off with extensive suggestions for further reading The chapters are grouped into five thematic sections chosen to reflect the full range of research being undertaken on imperial German history today and together offer a comprehensive and authoritative reference resource Overall this collection will provide scholars and students with a lively take on this fascinating period of German history from the nation's unification in 1871 right up until the end of World War I

History and Memory in the Dead Sea Scrolls

Travis B. Williams, 2019-05-16 Charts a new methodological course in Dead Sea Scrolls scholarship by employing memory theory to inform historical research This is an instructive resource for scholars who are seeking an alternative to currently constructed approaches to the subject and will be of appeal to those interested in the Dead Sea Scrolls more generally

Travels in Time Astrid Erll, 2025-05-06 In Travels in Time Astrid Erll addresses the question of how collective memory emerges through motion the movements of people media forms and practices Grounded in literary cultural and media memory studies the essays discuss the ways in which families and generations are shaped by the past how media such as literature film and photography make and remake collective memory or the cultural dimensions of trauma flashbulb memories or implicit memory They also consider traveling memory through the repercussions of recent historical events and long term mnemonic processes ranging from Greek antiquity to British colonialism in India and from the First and Second World Wars to 9 11 and Covid 19

The War between Russia and Ukraine Nicole Kunkel, Torsten Meireis, 2025-08-18

Depending on the global but also the European context peace ethical perspectives on the Russian Ukrainian war differ considerably While many Northern Western Middle and South Eastern European states stress the illegitimacy and illegality of Russia's invasion in Ukraine according to international law some European and many states in the global South and East take a different stance Thus important international agents like South Africa have abstained from voting on UN resolution A RES ES 11 1 March 2nd 2022 and also the renewed resolution A ES 11 L 7 February 23rd 2023 Brazil's president Lula da Silva claims neutrality in the conflict South African officials understand Russia as a long standing ally and the conflict as a recalibration of the global order and they don't stand alone with that view This book brings together voices from theology political science and peace ethics from three continents for an intercontinental public theological and interdisciplinary conversation on peace ethics that takes decolonial perspectives into account without giving up claims of universal validity of human rights

Collaborative Remembering Michelle L. Meade, Celia B. Harris, Penny Van Bergen, John Sutton, Amanda J. Barnier, 2018 We remember in social contexts We reminisce about the past together collaborate to remember shared experiences and remember in the context of our communities and cultures This book explores the topic of collaborative remembering across a wide range of fields including developmental cognitive and social psychology

Terrorism in Memory Culture: Investigating the Aftermath of July 22 in Norway Alexandre Dessingué, Paula Hamilton, 2025-03-12

This edited collection examines the intersection between the developing fields of terrorism and cultural memory studies through a detailed study of the 2011 terrorist attack in Norway It examines how the work of remembrance has been established through arts such as theatre and fiction and also architecture heritage and education It traces the politics of the remembrance processes and explores the shifting meanings in public memories that change over the thirteen years since the attack and are constantly being negotiated in response to present circumstances It also charts general trends in memorialisation the globalising and digitalising of memory practices the speed of memorial initiatives the role of testimony and the importance of diverse narratives emerging through newer modes of communication Chapters 10 13 and 16 are available open access under a Creative Commons Attribution 4 0 International License via link springer.com Memories of the Classical Underworld in Irish and Caribbean Literature Madeleine Scherer, 2021-09-20 Classical Memories is an intervention into the field of adaptation studies taking the example of classical reception to show that adaptation is a process that can be driven by and produce intertextual memories I see classical memories as a memory driven type of adaptation that draws on and reproduces schematic and otherwise de contextualised conceptions of antiquity and its cultural exports in broadly speaking the twentieth and twenty first centuries These memory driven adaptations differ often in significant ways from more traditional adaptations that seek to either continue or deconstruct a long running tradition that can be traced back to antiquity as well as its canonical points of reception in later ages When investigating such a popular and widespread set of narratives characters and images like those that remain of Graeco Roman antiquity terms like adaptation and reception could and should be nuanced further to allow us to understand the complex interactions between modern works and classical antiquity in more detail particularly when it pertains to postcolonial or post digital classical reception In Classical Memories I propose that understanding certain types of adaptations as intertextual memories allows us to do just that
