Artificial Wisdom Thomas R. Weaver,2025-08-12 In a climate ravaged landscape where AI and humans vie for political power a journalist must unravel a murderous plot that will either upend the world or save it 2050 Investigative journalist Marcus Tully is grieving his wife and unborn child ten years after they perished in a deadly heat wave that gripped the Persian Gulf Now the whole planet is both burning and drowning and the nations of the world decide to elect a global leader to steer humanity through the climate apocalypse The final two candidates a former U S president and Solomon the first artificial intellect to hold political office But as Election Day races closer Solomon s creator is murdered and it s up to Tully to find the culprit Soon Tully is unraveling a conspiracy that goes to the highest levels As the investigation heats up and the planet hurtles ever closer to the brink Tully must find the truth and convince the world to face it Because salvation has a price but is humanity willing to pay it Eternal Summer

Franziska Gänsler,2025-05-06 Set in a German spa town wracked by climate change this intense enthralling debut explores trust abuse and solidarity through the unexpected bond between two women When Iris took over the family hotel from her grandfather Bad Heim was still a popular spa town But now fierce wildfires rage in the area spewing smoke into the air The summers are dry and hot and never seem to end Guests have become a rare sight But suddenly a young mother shows up with her small daughter and asks for a room Something doesn t seem right about her Does she need help Or even pose a threat Franziska Gänsler s debut conjures up the heat of the fires the ashes falling on skin and the all pervading smell of smoke Yet you will want to stay with these women in this inhospitable place as they draw closer together and prepare to fight for their freedom Reimagining Science Fiction Gary Westfahl,2025-10-31

In the first decades of the twenty first century science fiction literature has been transformed in many ways as the genre has reacted to the dominating influence of films television and video games the growing popularity of fantasy the rise of young adult science fiction and graphic novels the impact of the internet and social media and the increasing diversity of the authors characters and often non Western settings The essays making up this volume address these and other changes in two ways Some consider new critical approaches to science fiction in response to changing circumstances including analyses of how evolutionary psychology explains today s science fiction the emerging subgenre of cli fi exploring the effects of climate change the use of science fiction in different areas of the college curriculum and a statistical method for identifying works of science fiction Others examine significant new authors such as Nalo Hopkinson Charles Stross Paolo Bacigalupi Suzanne Collins Mira Grant John Sandford and David Mura Contributors include science fiction author Howard V Hendrix and experts in the fields of Chinese studies gender studies literature philosophy and religion Awake in the Floating City Susanna Kwan,2025-05-13

A MOST ANTICIPATED BOOK FROM PEOPLE MAGAZINE An utterly transporting debut novel about the unexpected relationship between an artist and the 130 year old woman she cares for two of the last people living in a flooded San Francisco of the future the home neither is ready to leave An astonishing work of art This is the kind of book that changes you that leaves you seeing more vividly and living more fully in its wake Rachel Khong author of Real Americans Bo knows she should go Years of rain have drowned the city and almost everyone else has fled Her mother was carried away in a storm surge and ever since Bo has been alone She is stalled an artist unable to make art a daughter unable to give up the hope that her mother may still be alive Half heartedly she allows her cousin to plan for her escape but as the departure day approaches she finds a note slipped under her door from Mia an elderly woman who lives in her building and wants to hire Bo to be her caregiver Suddenly Bo has a reason to stay Mia can be prickly and yet still she and Bo forge a connection deeper than any Bo has had with a client Mia shares stories of her life that pull Bo back toward art toward the practice she thought she'd abandoned Listening to Mia allowing her memories to become entangled with Bo's own she's struck by how much history will be lost as the city gives way to water Then Mia's health turns and Bo determines to honor their disappearing world and this woman who's brought her back to it a project that teaches her the lessons that matter most how to care how to be present how to commemorate a life and a place soon to be lost forever

Planting the Shell-Bones Susan Kaye

Quinn,2024-03-27 SHORT STORY Living in a flooded lighthouse is probably illegal but no one has come to kick her out so she keeps furtively tending the oyster beds and feeding the crows But when a storm brings an unexpected and unwelcome visitor her time in this final refuge might be at an end Planting the Shell Bones is one of six short solarpunk stories in the Halfway to Better collection If you enjoyed the optimistic climate solutions in Kim Stanley Robinson s Ministry for the Future or the cozy cooperative future in Becky Chambers Monk and Robot series you will enjoy Halfway to Better Crisis and the Culture of Fear and Anxiety in Contemporary Europe Carmen Zamorano Llena,Jonas Stier,Billy Gray,2023-08-01 The accruelement of crises over the last two decades with their particular manifestations in the European context has evoked the feeling of living in exceptional times as captured in the recurrent claim that we live in the age of anxiety The main aim of this collection is to analyse from a multidisciplinary perspective the causes and consequences of the current dominance of the discourse of fear anxiety and crisis through the experience of distinct and often interdependent moral panics in twenty first century Europe With its multidisciplinary approach this volume sheds light on the need to view the interrelationship between different crises and their associated affects as crucial in attaining a more nuanced understanding of the aetiology and effects of the current age of anxiety This multidisciplinary scrutiny of the interrelationship of twenty first century fears anxiety and crises signals an original engagement with these complex phenomena in order to make their emergence and profound effects on contemporary society more comprehensible The timeliness of the thematic focus and the rigorous in depth analyses make this collection relevant to students and academics within the fields of sociology literary and cultural studies political science and anthropology as well as to those in European studies and global studies Rollercoasters: KS3/KS4: Utopia and Dystopia: Short Stories eBook ,2024-09-12 This eBook collection of short stories is the perfect introduction to the dystopian and utopian genres Stories of a grisly ritual lottery designed to ensure a good harvest a feminist utopia a society where a personal assistant app robs users of freewill and people dealing with the aftermath of a climate change apocalypse provide insights into the societal concerns of the times in which they were written Drawn from the 19th 20th and 21st centuries and by authors such as Begum Rokeya Shirley Jackson Franz Kafka Dillman Dila Ken Liu and others the collection offers readers the opportunity to broaden their understanding of different perspectives to reflect about the world that they live in and think critically about how society might evolve It is ideal for use in the KS3 and KS4 11 16 classroom and will also support delivery of a more diverse curriculum Suggested in the Stars Yoko Tawada,2024-10-01 On the heels of Scattered All Over the Earth Yoko Tawada s new and irresistible Suggested in the Stars carries on her band of friends astonishing and intrepid adventures It s hard to believe there could be a more enjoyable novel than Scattered All Over the Earth Yoko Tawada s rollicking touching cheerfully dystopian novel about friendship and climate change but surprising her readers is what Tawada does best its sequel Suggested in the Stars delivers exploits even more poignant and shambolic As Hiruko whose Land of Sushi has vanished into the sea and who is still searching for someone who speaks her mother tongue and her new friends travel onward they begin opening up to one another in new and extraordinary ways They try to help their friend Susanoo regain his voice both for his own good and so he can speak with Hiruko and amid many often hilarious misunderstandings some linguistic in nature they empower each other against despair Coping with carbon footprint worries but looping singly and in pairs they hitchhike take late night motorcycle rides and hop on the train learning about railway strikes but also packed train yoga to convene in Copenhagen There they find Susanoo in a strange hospital working with a scary speech loss doctor In the half basement of this weird medical center with strong echoes of Lars von Trier s 1990s TV series The Kingdom they also find two special kids washing dishes They discover magic radios personality swaps ship tickets delivered by a robot and other gifts But friendship loaning one another the nerve and heart to keep going sets them all and the reader to dreaming of something more Suggested in the Stars delivers new delights and Yoko Tawada s famed new trilogy will conclude in 2025 with Archipelago of the Sun even if nobody will ever want this strange exquisite The New Yorker trip to end

Dystopias and Utopias on Earth and Beyond Douglas A. Vakoch, 2021-04-29 Caught as we are in a grave climate crisis that seems more irreversible with every passing year our literary portrayals of the future often feature the dystopian collapse of the world as we know it Science fiction explores how we got here while pointing toward a more hopeful path forward From an ecofeminist perspective a core cause of our current ecological catastrophe is the patriarchal domination of nature playing out in parallel with the oppression of women As an alternative to dystopian futures that seem increasingly inevitable ecofeminist science fiction helps us conjure utopias that promote environmental sustainability based on more egalitarian human relationships Dystopias and Utopias on Earth and Beyond Feminist Ecocriticism of Science Fiction explores the fictional worlds of such canonical novelists as Margaret Atwood Octavia Butler Ursula K Le Guin Doris Lessing and Joan Slonczewski as well as those of lesser known science fiction writers as they collectively probe humanity s greatest existential threats Contributors from five continents provide compelling analyses of far future dystopias on Earth that are all too easy to imagine becoming reality if humankind s current trajectory continues as well as provocative insights into science fiction utopias set on idyllic planets orbiting distant stars which offer liberatory alternatives that might someday be actualized in the real world By examining the links between the destruction of the environment and the domination of women Dystopias and Utopias on Earth and Beyond provides the tools to counteract those intertwined oppressions helping create a foundation for a truly habitable world
