(Social and Political Life) (Chapter – 5) (Understanding Marginalisation)

(Class – 8)

Question 1:

Write in your own words two or more sentences of what you understand by the word 'marginalisation'.

Answer 1:

'Marginalisation' is a term that refers to those groups of the society which remained ignored in the past due to various social and economic causes. "Marginalisation" comes from the word "margin" meaning at the outskirts or periphery. When applied to a specific community or tribe, it implies that a particular class, caste or tribe is excluded from mainstream society.

Question 2:

List two reasons why Adivasis are becoming increasingly marginalised.

Answer 2:

Adivasis are becoming increasingly marginalized because of the following two reasons:

- They follow a different culture, language and traditions from mainstream Indian society which leads us to wrongfully classify them as exotic, primitive and backward.
- They are used to a way of life close to nature and with the cutting down of forests they are being forced to migrate to urban areas where they feel out of place and not in sync with a lifestyle so vastly different from their countryside background.

Question 3:

Write one reason why you think the Constitution's safeguards to protect minority communities are very important?

Answer 3:

The Constitution's safeguards to protect minority communities are very important because they ensure that India's cultural diversity is protected from becoming largely unitary and they also help to promote equality and justice to all.

Question 4:

Re-read the section on Minorities and Marginalisation. What do you understand by the term minority?

Answer 4:

The term minority is used for defining communities that are smaller in number in relation to the rest of the population. It includes issues of power, access to resources and also bears cultural and social dimensions.

Question 5:

You are participating in a debate where you have to provide reasons to support the following statement: 'Muslims are a marginalised community'. Using the data provided in this chapter, list two reasons that you would give.

Answer 5:

Two reasons in support of the statement "Muslims are a marginalized community": firstly, the Muslim community has not been able to gain from the country's socio-economic development as statistics on basic amenities, literacy rate and public employment show. 63.6% Muslims live in kutcha houses as compared to only 55.2% Hindus; the literacy rate amongst Muslims was the lowest at 59% in a 2001 survey. Secondly, their customs are distinct from other religious communities, so much so that they are identified as separate from the "rest of us" leading to unfair treatment and discrimination against Muslims.

Education for Social Citizenship W.O. Lee, Jeffrey T. Fouts, 2005-03-01 This volume, emerging from a cross-national study of teachers' perceptions of good citizenship, addresses two fundamental questions: What do teachers see as important in citizenship education? How do these perceptions facilitate or hinder the preparation of good citizens? While providing rich and useful data on the latest developments of citizenship education in various contexts, this book also offers an all-round review of concepts and arguments on the subject, as well as insightful comparative analyses of the findings emerged from the case studies. One encouraging conclusion drawn from these studies is that teachers across nations share similar goals and objectives that seem to have transcended cultural and political boundaries.

Comparative Civic Culture Professor Laura A. Reese, Professor Raymond A. Rosenfeld, 2013-04-28 The quest for a theoretical framework for understanding urban policy making has been a recurring focus of research into local governments. Civic culture is a means for understanding how municipal policy makers weigh the interests of different groups, govern the local community, frame local goals, engage in decision making, and ultimately select and implement public policies. While it seems that culture matters in local policy making, how to measure culture in a valid and replicable fashion presents a significant challenge, which the authors address in this book. They present their findings of a large multi-city research project to explore the nature of civic culture in cities in the US and Canada. The focus of their analysis is on three overarching systems of community power: the community value system and the community decision-making system. The authors address a number of questions around the nature of civic culture and the relationships between the three systemic elements of civic culture to refine and apply a more sophisticated theory of urban policy making.
