

Character Traits: Lesson Plan for Describing Characters in Stories

Read people and characters in stories close and what they are by their words and actions. Help students make the connection between a character trait and the words or actions that support it by using Character Cards.

Grade: 3rd

Subject: Reading

Learning Objectives

Students will be able to describe a character's appearance and character traits as demonstrated by actions in the story.

Materials and preparation

- White paper
- Gluestick or glue, fairy tale or folktale
- Character Traits reference sheet

Key terms

- character trait

Activities

- Character Traits reference (DO-IT)

Instructional time (3 minutes)

Begin by beginning the lesson, look at the Character Traits reference sheet, and add images that correspond with each card. These visual representations will allow students to better understand what each trait means.

- Introduce Cinderella or another chosen fairy tale to your class. Tell your students that they will be describing one of the main characters in the story.
- Explain to your class that there are two parts to describing characters: their outward appearance, such as hair and eye color, and the aspect of their personality or traits as behaviors and their attitudes. Tell your class that words that describe someone's personality or behavior are called character traits.
- Ask your class to come up with some examples of character traits. Refer to the Character Traits reference sheet if necessary.

Explicit Instruction/Teacher modeling (30 minutes)

- Read your story aloud to the class, stopping once the first main character has been introduced.
- Ask your students to think in their heads what that character is like on the outside, and then share their descriptions with a partner. For example, students may describe Cinderella as "pretty" or that's how they imagine her.
- Encourage your students to focus on what this character says and does in the story, to determine what kind of person she is on the inside. Model thinking aloud when the character says or does something interesting. For example, Cinderella seems to be patient because she doesn't get angry with her stepmother when she takes her animal.
- Encourage thinking aloud several more times during your reading, with more examples that illustrate the character's inner traits.
- After reading, take a blank sheet of paper and fold it in half to make a card. Tell students that they will be helping you describe one of the main characters in the story you just read. Write the character's name on the front of the card.
- Ask students to describe the character's appearance. As they call out descriptions, sketch the character's
