Media Sensation Picture Book Toddlers:

Children's Digital Picture Books Katherine Day, 2024-05-01 During the COVID 19 pandemic lockdowns children's media use increased Mesce et al 2021 while a decrease in print book reading was observed Nolan et al 2022 An increase in tablet use suggests that when children were reading it was mostly online in the form of ePub3 pdf files for illustrated works and prescribed school texts while smartphone use was linked to apps and games Susilowati et al 2021 For many years now children's publishers have experimented with digital picture book formats but have regarded the genre as not suitable for digitisation This book documents the findings of a one year research project engaging the children's publishing sector for feedback on reading trends and digital publishing in picture book genres The research assesses the plight of picture books in the current climate and considers how picture book publishers cater to diverse readerships and new reading platforms post Covid 19 lockdowns and into the digital age Written by an academic and editor with over 15 years industry experience this book offers a nuanced response to children's picture book publishing and reception for librarians teachers publishers and international scholars in the fields of publishing studies library studies early childhood studies early education and childhood psychology

Children's Picture Books about Refugees and Campbell's Monomyth Eseta Tualaulelei, Martin Kerby, Margaret Baguley, Alison Bedford, 2025-07-14 This book explores the portrayal of refugee experiences in children's picture books using insights from Joseph Campbell's The Hero with a Thousand Faces Chapter 1 considers this emerging genre of children's literature within its social and educational context and explains how the narratives embedded within these books were examined Chapter 2 cites key studies in the field of children's picture books about refugees to uncover common narrative arcs characterisations themes and educative value Remaining chapters detail the three core elements of Campbell's canonical narrative arc to review how the experience of refugees is presented in modern picture books using this familiar narrative structure as a means of exploring a humanitarian issue with overt political overtones In so doing the authors employ an innovative means of analysing picture books that deal with refugees by positioning them within a familiar narrative arc that belies the fear of difference they may otherwise represent Children's Literature Barbara Stoodt, 1996

Children Reading Pictures Evelyn Arizpe, Morag Styles, 2004-08-02 This book describes the fascinating results of a two year study of children's responses to contemporary picturebooks Children of primary school age from a range of backgrounds read and discussed books by the award winning artists Anthony Browne and Satoshi Kitamura They then made their own drawings in response to the books The authors found that children are sophisticated readers of visual texts and are able to make sense of complex images on literal visual and metaphorical levels They are able to understand different viewpoints analyse moods messages and emotions and articulate personal responses to picturebooks even when they struggle with the written word With colour illustrations and interviews with the two authors whose books were included in the study this book demonstrates how important visual literacy is to children's understanding and development Primary and Early Years teachers literacy coordinators and all those interested in children's literature will find this a captivating read

Making Sense Of Children's Drawings Anning, Angela, Ring, Kathy, 2004-08-01 Making Sense of Children's Drawings is enlivened with the real drawings of seven young children collected over three years. These drawings stimulated dialogues with the children, parents, and practitioners whose voices are reported in the book. The book makes an argument for us to rethink radically the role of drawing in young children's construction of meaning, communication, and sense of identity. It provides insights into the influence of media and consumerism as reflected in popular visual imagery and on gender identity formation in young children. It also offers strong messages about the overemphasis on the three Rs in early childhood education.

International Handbook of Research on Children's Literacy, Learning and Culture Kathy Hall, Teresa Cremin, Barbara Comber, Luis C. Offers literacy scholars an international perspective that recognizes and anticipates increasing diversity in literacy practices and cultures.

Proceedings of the International Conference on Learning and Advanced Education (ICOLAE 2022) Mauliy Halwat Hikmat, Yasir Sidiq, Naufal Ishartono, Yunus Sulistyono, Patmisari, Susiati, 2023-08-29 This is an open access book. The COVID-19 pandemic in the last two years has influenced how the educational system works. Online learning became the primal policy taken by all institutions in the world to lower the risk of the virus spread. Despite the drawbacks of the online learning, teachers and students were accustomed with the distant learning through web meetings, Learning Management Systems (LMS), and other online learning platforms. In that time, topics under digital learning and education 5.0 were the main stakes in academic disseminations. This year, some institutions start to conduct their teaching and learning process classically as before the pandemic; others are still continuing online, and not few are in hybrid. This leaves a question: what learning reform should be made in the post-pandemic era? This conference invites researchers, experts, teachers, and students to discuss the coping solutions of the question. It is important for them to contribute to the understanding of reimagining online education for better futures, innovative learning design, new skills for living and working in new times, global challenge of education, learning and teaching with blended learning, flipped learning, integrating life skills for students in the curriculum, developing educators for the future, distance learning, humanities learning in the digital era, assessment and measurement in education, challenges and transformations in education technology, in teaching and learning, new learning and teaching models. Not limited to these, scholars may add another interesting topic related to learning reform in the post-pandemic era to present.

Rewired Carl D. Marci,2022-01-01 Living in an age of digital distraction has wreaked havoc on our brains but there s much we can do to restore our tech life balance We live in a world that is always on where everyone is always connected But we feel increasingly disconnected Why The answer lies in our brains Carl D Marci MD a leading expert on social and consumer neuroscience reviews the mounting evidence that overuse of smart phones and social media is rewiring our brains resulting in a losing deal we are neglecting the relationships that sustain us and keep us healthy in favor of weaker and more ephemeral ties The ability to connect and form strong social bonds is fundamental to human experience and emerged through unique structures in our brains But ever more powerful technologies and ubiquitous access to media have hijacked our need to connect intimately and emotionally with others The quick highs of clicking like and swiping right overstimulate the same neurological reward centers associated with social relationships The habits that accompany our digital lifestyles are putting tremendous pressure on critical components of the brain associated with attention emotion and memory changing how we process information and altering how we communicate and relate even at a physiological level As a psychiatrist working at the forefront of research on the impact of digital technology Marci has seen this transformation up close and developed a range of responses Rewired provides scientifically supported solutions for everyone who wants to restore their tech life balance from parents concerned about their children s exposure to the internet to stressed workers dealing with the deluge of emails and managing the expectation of 24 7 availability

Touch Screen Tablets Touching Children's Lives Joanne Tarasuik,Gabrielle Strouse,Jordy Kaufman,2018-02-28 Touch screen tablets have greatly expanded the technology accessible to preschoolers toddlers and even infants given that they do not require the fine motor skills required for using traditional computers Many parents and educators wish to make evidence based decisions regarding young children s technology use yet technological advancements continue to occur faster than researchers can keep up with Accordingly despite touch screen tablets entering society more than 5 years ago we are in the infancy of research concerning interactive media and children The topic has gained traction in the past couple of years For example theoretical papers have discussed how interactive media activities differ from physical toys and passive media Christakis 2014 and how educational apps development should utilise the four pillars of learning Hirsh Pasek et al 2015 Yet there has been little experimental research published on young children and touch screen use

Children's Picture Books and Contemporary Egyptian Society

Yasmine Motawy, 2025-02-25 A social and political history of two decades of Egyptian neoliberalism through children s picture books published in Egypt in the post 2000 era Children s picture books are some of the most transparently ideological materials available to parents and educators and as cultural objects they are an expression of the zeitgeist of a particular era They reveal much about the hopes values and aspirations of the society that produces them as well as that society s vision of its place in the wider world at large Children s Picture Books and Contemporary Egyptian Society examines a new wave of Egyptian picture books that was published in the current century to see how these books responded to larger societal trends and transformations in Egypt as well as to explore the ideologies that lie behind them Yasmine Motawy argues that a host of factors including the growth of gated communities and international schooling the proliferation of lucrative literary awards returning Gulf migrants television dramas and nationwide reading advocacy initiatives helped give rise to a new kind of children s picture book in Egypt Motawy focuses on three clusters of selected picture books to investigate the extent to which these books reproduce hegemonic discourses or alternatively open up new horizons of childhood agency and societal transformation The first cluster includes books that directly socialize the child by showing them how things are done in both the domestic sphere and the increasing globalized spaces that children frequent with their families The second cluster aims at reframing cultural notions around femininity through the retelling of folk and fairy tales while the third cluster addresses children s abilities to assess the impact of their actions on their environment and invites them to examine their personal suitability to positions of power and stewardship
