Extending a dynamic programming language and runtime environment with access control

Tessenow, Philipp, Felgentreff, Tim, Bracha, Gilad, Hirschfeld, Robert, 2016-11-09 Complexity in software systems is a major factor driving development and maintenance costs To master this complexity software is divided into modules that can be developed and tested separately In order to support this separation of modules each module should provide a clean and concise public interface Therefore the ability to selectively hide functionality using access control is an important feature in a programming language intended for complex software systems Software systems are increasingly distributed adding not only to their inherent complexity but also presenting security challenges The object capability approach addresses these challenges by defining language properties providing only minimal capabilities to objects One programming language that is based on the object capability approach is Newspeak a dynamic programming language designed for modularity and security The Newspeak specification describes access control as one of Newspeak s properties because it is a requirement for the object capability approach However access control as defined in the Newspeak specification is currently not enforced in its implementation This work introduces an access control implementation for Newspeak enabling the security of object capabilities and enhancing modularity We describe our implementation of access control for Newspeak We adapted the runtime environment the reflective system the compiler toolchain and the virtual machine Finally we describe a migration strategy for the existing Newspeak code base so that our access control implementation can be integrated with minimal effort

The Virtual Mind Niklas Hageback,2017-08-07 The Virtual Mind Designing the Logic to Approximate Human Thinking through an in depth and multidisciplinary review outlines and defines the underpinnings for modelling human thinking through approximating the mind Whilst there are plenty of efforts underway trying to mimic the brain its complexities have so far proven insurmountable But replicating the abstract notion of the mind provides a viable and quicker route Broadly the mind consists of a conscious and an unconscious part with separate logic schemes and these absorb reality in diverging chunks with the former truncated through narratives and norms and the latter able to amass broader perceptions of reality These are held together and controlled through a governing mechanism With the replication and establishment of the mind's mechanistic rules and dynamic constants tested through a big data approach from public media it allows for standardization and machine generated human thinking a Virtual Mind A virtual mind is able to cover a wide array of applications in particular forecasting of human behavior and decision making In essence the whole socioeconomic spectra can be captured including politics financial markets and consumer patterns Another area of potential application would be to augment various game software and of course it would be applicable for the man machine connect The book guides the reader on how to develop and produce a machine generated virtual mind in a step by step manner It is a must for anyone with an interest in artificial intelligence the design and construction of the next generation of computer logic and it provides an enhanced understanding of mankind's greatest mystery the workings of the mind Niklas Hageback has extensive experience of risk modelling and financial analytics working at tier one financial institutions and consulting firms such as

Deutsche Bank KPMG and Goldman Sachs where he held regional executive risk management and oversight roles in both Europe and Asia Functional and Constraint Logic Programming Michael Hanus, Claudio Sacerdoti Coen, 2021-05-05 This book constitutes the refereed post conference proceedings of the 28th International Workshop on Functional and Constraint Logic Programming WFLP 2020 held in Bologna Italy in September 2020 Due to the COVID 19 the workshop was held online From the 19 full papers submitted 8 were accepted for presentation at the workshop The accepted papers cover different programming areas of functional and logic programming including code generation verification and debugging
