INT. PATIO TEPEJI 21 - DAY

Yellow triangles inside red squares.

Water spreading over tiles. Grimy foam.

The tile floor of a long and narrow patio stretching through the entire house: On one end, a black metal door gives onto the street. The door has frosted glass windows, two of which are broken, courtesy of some dejected goatee.

CLEO, Cleotilde/Cleodegaria Gutiérrez, a Mixtec indigenous woman, about 26 years old, walks across the patio, nudging water over the wet floor with a squeegee.

As she reaches the other end, the foam has amassed in a corner, timidly showing off its shiny little white bubbles, but -

A GUSH OF WATER surprises and drags the stubborn little bubbles to the corner where they finally vanish, whirling into the sewer.

Cleo picks up the brooms and buckets and carries them to -

THE SMALL PATIO -

Which is enclosed between the kitchen, the garage and the house. She opens the door to a small closet, puts away the brooms and buckets, walks into a small bathroom and closes the door.

The patio remains silent except for a radio announcer, his enthusiasm melting in the distance, and the sad song of two caged little birds.

The toilet flushes. Then: water from the sink. A beat, the door opens.

Cleo dries her hands on her apron, enters the kitchen and disappears behind the door connecting it to the house.

INT - GROUND FLOOR - TEPEJI 21 - DAY

Cleo crosses the dark, antique wood breakfast room, then the modern light and angled wood dining room and goes up the stairs, reaching the hall.

Beyond the hall there are two living rooms, one with heavy green velvet sofas and antique cabinets with records and a stereo. There's a piano next to the wall.
