Epigraphy Alison E. Cooley, 2012-09-13 This book advances our understanding of the place of Latin inscriptions in the Roman world It enables readers especially those new to the subject to appreciate both the potential and the limitations of inscriptions as historical source material by considering the diversity of epigraphic culture in the Roman world and how it has been transmitted to the twenty first century The first chapter offers an epigraphic sample drawn from the Bay of Naples illustrating the dynamic epigraphic culture of that region The second explores in detail the nature of epigraphic culture in the Roman world probing the limitations of traditional ways of dividing up inscriptions into different categories and offering examples of how epigraphic culture developed in different geographical social and religious contexts It examines the life cycle of inscriptions how they were produced viewed reused and destroyed Finally the third provides guidance on deciphering inscriptions face to face and handling specialist epigraphic publications Contraband Guides Paul H. D.

Kaplan, 2020-07-09 In his best selling travel memoir The Innocents Abroad Mark Twain punningly refers to the black man who introduces him to Venetian Renaissance painting as a contraband guide a term coined to describe fugitive slaves who assisted Union armies during the Civil War By means of this and similar case studies Paul H D Kaplan documents the ways in which American cultural encounters with Europe and its venerable artistic traditions influenced nineteenth century concepts of race in the United States Americans of the Civil War era were struck by the presence of people of color in European art and society and American artists and authors both black and white adapted and transformed European visual material to respond to the particular struggles over the identity of African Americans Taking up the work of both well and lesser known artists and writers such as the travel writings of Mark Twain and William Dean Howells the paintings of German American Emanuel Leutze the epistolary exchange between John Ruskin and Charles Eliot Norton newspaper essays written by Frederick Douglass and William J Wilson and the sculpture of freed slave Eugene Warburg Kaplan lays bare how racial attitudes expressed in mid nineteenth century American art were deeply inflected by European traditions By highlighting the contributions people of black African descent made to the fine arts in the United States during this period along with the ways in which they were represented Contraband Guides provides a fresh perspective on the theme of race in Civil War era American art It will appeal to art historians to specialists in African American studies and American studies and to general readers interested in American art and African American history Slavery, Childhood, and Abolition in Jamaica, 1788-1838 Colleen A. Vasconcellos, 2015 As Vasconcellos discusses the nature of child development in the plantation complex she looks at how colonial Jamaican society and the slave community conceived childhood and how those ideas changed as the abolitionist movement gained power the fortunes of planters rose and fell and the work evolved from slavery to apprenticeship to free labor

Slavery Stole My Identity - and other stories Brian Moyo, Slavery, Resistance, and Identity in Early Modern West Africa Makhroufi Ousmane Traoré, 2023-11-15 Between the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries more than fifteen million people were uprooted from West Africa and enslaved in the Trans Saharan and Transatlantic slave systems The state of Gajaage located on the West African hinterland offered a doorway to the Atlantic Ocean and played a central role in the wide scale trade system that connected the histories of Africa the Americas and Europe Focussing on the Soninke of Gajaaga Makhroufi Ousmane Traor demonstrates how their resistance to the slave trades led to the formation of a united community bound by an awareness of identity This original study expands our understanding of the various modes of resistance West Africans employed to stem the encroaching tide of Arab imperializing efforts European mercantile capitalism and the Atlantic slave trade whilst also highlighting how ethnic and religious identities were constructed and mobilized in the region
