Identity research in relation to ethnicity and migration has tended to focus on younger people whilst identity research in relation to ageing and old(er) age has not focused on migrants This inadvertent mutual neglect has led to a lack of identity research that examines the identity categories of old(er) age and migrancy together a lacuna that this dissertation aims to redress This dissertation departs from a social constructionist understanding of identity as situationally accomplished in the interplay between how one defines oneself internally and how others define one externally The questions raised by this perspective and addressed in this dissertation are When in what situations and in relation to whom do old(er) age and migrancy respectively seem to become meaningful for identification How do the identity categories of old(er) age and migrancy seem to be negotiated The empirical material consists of in depth interviews with 24 older migrants 13 men 11 women aged between 55 and 79 who have been living in Sweden for 18 to 61 years Interviewees come from 12 different countries that vary in perceived cultural distance from Sweden The findings suggest that identifications with old(er) age and migrancy seem to be dynamic and flexible rather than necessarily permanently meaningful thus gaining meaning in specific situations and in relation to particular Others External definitions furthermore do not always seem to match with internal ones Regardless of how old(er) age and migrancy are constructed they seem to be negotiable This dissertation thus contributes to identity research by studying old(er) age and migrancy together and furthermore sheds light onto how the social constructionist lens allows us to see variability where stability otherwise would be presumed Identitetsforskning r rande etnicitet och migration har huvudsakligen fokuserat p yngre medan identitetsforskning kring ldre och ldrande inte har fokuserat p utrikesfdda Som en konsekvens d r det har identitetsforskningen inte studerat h g re lder och invandrarskap tillsammans en lucka som denna avhandling avser att fylla Avhandlingen utg r ifr n en socialkonstruktionistisk f rstelse av identitet som situationsbunden och formad genom samspelet mellan hur man definierar sig sj lv internt och hur andra definierar en externt Fr gorna som v cks genom detta perspektiv och som avhandlingen fokuserar p r N r i vilka situationer och i f rh llande till vem verkar h g re lder respektive invandrarskap bli betydelsefulla f r identifikationer Hur verkar identitetskategorierna h g re lder och invandrarskap f rhandlas Det empiriska materialet best r av djupintervjuer med 24 utrikesfödda äldre 13 mellan 11 kvinnor i åldrarna mellan 55 och 79 som har bott i Sverige mellan 18 och 61 år. Intervjupersonerna kommer från 12 olika länder med olika upplevt kulturellt avstånd från Sverige. Resultaten tyder på att identifikationer med hemländer och invandrarskap är dynamiska och flexibla snarare än definitivt permanent meningsfulla och fördrömd betydelse i vissa situationer och i förhållande till särskilda andra. Externa definitioner verkar inte alltid stämma överens med interna definitioner. Oavsett hur hemländer och invandrarskap är konstruerade så framstår de som förhållningsbara. Avhandlingen bidrar förutom till identitetsforskningen genom att studera hemländer och invandrarskap tillsammans och belyser dessutom hur det socialkonstruktionistiska perspektivet tillåter oss att se variation och föränderlighet där stabilitet annars förutsätts.
