Swann's Way Marcel Proust, 2024-07-09 For a long time I used to go to bed early Sometimes when I had put out my candle my eyes would close so quickly that I had not even time to say I m going to sleep And half an hour later the thought that it was time to go to sleep would awaken me I would try to put away the book which I imagined was still in my hands and to blow out the light I had been thinking all the time while I was asleep of what I had just been reading but my thoughts had run into a channel of their own until I myself seemed actually to have become the subject of my book a church a quartet the rivalry between Fran ois I and Charles V This impression would persist for some moments after I was awake it did not disturb my mind but it lay like scales upon my eyes and prevented them from registering the fact that the candle was no longer burning Then it would begin to seem unintelligible as the thoughts of a former existence must be to a reincarnate spirit the subject of my book would separate itself from me leaving me free to choose whether I would form part of it or no and at the same time my sight would return and I would be astonished to find myself in a state of darkness pleasant and restful enough for the eyes and even more perhaps for my mind to which it appeared incomprehensible without a cause a matter dark indeed I would ask myself what o clock it could be I could hear the whistling of trains which now nearer and now farther off punctuating the distance like the note of a bird in a forest shewed me in perspective the deserted countryside through which a traveller would be hurrying towards the nearest station the path that he followed being fixed for ever in his memory by the general excitement due to being in a strange place to doing unusual things to the last words of conversation to farewells exchanged beneath an unfamiliar lamp which echoed still in his ears amid the silence of the night and to the delightful prospect of being once again at home

Embassy staff after the Allies forced the German Army out of Paris and the reestablishment of the American Embassy in Paris

Czertok, 2015-07-24 How might the organic link between theatre making and political action be revitalised And how might a spontaneous vision of a theatre of and for ordinary people be reignited Since his political exile from Argentina in 1977 theatre director and producer Horacio Czertok has devoted his life to reimagining the art of the theatre taking it out of its comfort zone into places of social conflict such as deprived suburban areas prisons and mental hospitals as well as open public spaces engaging directly with audiences in a spirit of abiding carnivalesque and deeply political theatrical experimentation Adapting a rigorous Stanislavskian theatrical training to the exigencies of raw immediate encounters with audiences in marginal and open spaces Czertok's theatre making is unique not only in the kinds of capacities and skills it allows actors to develop but also in the way it renders the question of political efficacy immanent to the very process of making theatre Providing Czertok s own highly personal account of his trajectory in the global scene of theatre making over the past half century this is a book about the theatre of exile a theatre of streets prisons hospitals open to direct and unexpected encounters with audiences and their life experiences Photos by Luca Gavagna

Within A Budding Grove Marcel Proust,2024-07-04 My mother when it was a question of our having M de Norpois to dinner for the first time having expressed her regret that Professor Cottard was away from home and that she herself had quite ceased to see anything of Swann since either of these might have helped to entertain the old Ambassador my father replied that so eminent a guest so distinguished a man of science as Cottard could never be out of place at a dinner table but that Swann with his ostentation his habit of crying aloud from the housetops the name of everyone that he knew however slightly was an impossible vulgarian whom the Marquis de Norpois would be sure to dismiss as to use his own epithet a pestilent fellow Now this attitude on my father s part may be felt to require a few words of explanation inasmuch as some of us no doubt remember a Cottard of distinct mediocrity and a Swann by whom modesty and discretion in all his social relations were carried to the utmost refinement of delicacy But in his case what had happened was that to the original young Swann and also to the Swann of the Jockey Club our old friend had added a fresh personality which was not to be his last that of Odette s husband Adapting to the humble ambitions of that lady the instinct the desire the industry which he had always had he had laboriously constructed for himself a long way beneath the old a new position more appropriate to the companion who was to share it with him In this he shewed himself another man Since while he continued to go by himself to the houses of his own friends on whom he did not care to inflict Odette unless they had expressly asked that she should be introduced to them it was a new life that he had begun to lead in common with his wife among a new set of
