by MURRAY BOOKCHIN

edited by Debbie Bookchin and Blair Taylor

Foreword by Ursula K. Le Guin

The ideas about political organization that have animated the new radical movements worldwide

Many similarities exist between the new movements against austerity that have emerged since 2011, ranging from Taksim Square in Turkey to the Chilean student protests, and from Greece to NYC. One of them is their return to the principles of direct democracy and their organization around popular assemblies. These ideas are hardly new – Murray Bookchin, who is one of the leading anarchist thinkers of the twentieth century, has been elaborating ideas about popular assemblies for several decades that have influenced thinkers such as David Harvey. The Next Revolution brings together Bookchin's writings on popular assemblies for the first time, just as his ideas are rekindling the radical imagination worldwide.

Seeds for Diversity and Inclusion Yoshiaki Nishikawa, Michel Pimbert, 2022-02-12 This open access book will contribute to a more nuanced debate around seed system resilience that goes beyond the dominant dichotomous conceptualization of seed governance often characterized as traditional vs modern subsistence vs commercial or local vs global While reflecting on the expanding oligopoly in the current seed system the authors argue that such classifications limit our ability to critically reflect on and acknowledge the diverse approaches through which seed governance is practiced around the world at various scales creating a mosaic of dynamic complementarities and autonomies The authors also highlight the importance of this much needed dialogue through case studies of seed governance approaches and practices found in and around Japan

The Geopolitics of Memory James Riding, 2019-09-30 In this daring experiment in ethnographic place writing cultural geographer James Riding aims to get at the heart of post conflict Bosnia showing the past alongside the present it created via a series of journeys and through the retelling of memories The juxtaposition between the siege of Sarajevo and supersonic metal the refugee journey and the aid worker travelling in the other direction the desperation and fury to change the present yet being stuck with many of the ethno nationalist politicians and politics of the past it is a journey to Bosnia as it is understood today in popular discourse a war torn place defined by ethnic conflict yet also a journey to deconstruct and reveal more than ancient ethnic hatreds portrayed on television screens across the globe from 1992 to 1995 Heavy with the weight of history on the one hand and an inspirational place with radical emancipatory politics on the other it is only through innovative storytelling that one can attempt to give a sense of what Bosnia itself is like in words for those who have never been and most importantly for those who are from there
