Sites Unseen Landscape And Vision:

Sites Unseen Dianne Harris,D. Fairchild Ruggles,2007-05-27 Sites Unseen challenges conventions for viewing and interpreting the landscape using visual theory to move beyond traditional practices of describing and classifying objects to explore notions of audience and context While other fields such as art history and geography have engaged poststructuralist theory to consider vision and representation the application of such inquiry to the natural or built environment has lagged behind This book by treating landscape as a spatial psychological and sensory encounter aims to bridge this gap opening a new dialogue for discussing the landscape outside the boundaries of current art criticism and theory As the contributors reveal the landscape is a widely adaptable medium that can be employed literally or metaphorically to convey personal or institutional ideologies Walls gates churchyards and arches become framing devices for a staged aesthetic experience or to suit a sociopolitical agenda The optic stimulation of signs symbols bodies and objects combines with physical acts of climbing and walking and sensory acts of touching smelling and hearing to evoke an overall vision of landscape Sites Unseen considers a variety of different perspectives including ancient Roman visions of landscape the framing techniques of a Moghul palace and a contemporary case study of Christo s The Gates as examples of human attempts to shape our sensory cognitive and emotional experiences in the landscape

Sites Unseen Dianne Suzette Harris,D. Fairchild Ruggles,2007 Sites Unseen challenges conventions for viewing and interpreting the landscape using visual theory to move beyond traditional practices of describing and classifying objects to explore notions of audience and context Treats landscape as a spatial psychological and sensory encounter opening a new dialogue for discussing the landscape outside the boundaries of current art criticism and theory

Exploring the Visual Landscape Steffen Nijhuis,R. van Lammeren (ed.),Frank van der Hoeven,2011-09-01 It offers clues for visual landscape assessment of spaces in cities parks and rural areas

Crime Scenery in Postwar Film and Photography Henrik Gustafsson,2019-05-24 This book offers a rare and innovative consideration of an enduring tendency in postwar art to explore places devoid of human agents in the wake of violent encounters To see the scenery together with the crime elicits a double interrogation not merely of a physical site but also of its formation as an aesthetic artefact and ultimately of our own acts of looking and imagining Closely engaging with a vast array of works made by artists filmmakers and photographers each who has forged a distinct vantage point on the aftermath of crime and conflict the study selectively maps the afterlife of landscape in search of the political and ethical agency of the image By way of a thoroughly interdisciplinary approach Crime Scenery in Postwar Film and Photography brings landscape studies into close dialogue with contemporary theory by paying sustained attention to how the gesture of retracing past events facilitates new configurations of the present and future

Landscape Theory Rachel DeLue,James Elkins,2010-10-28 Artistic representations of landscape are studied widely in areas ranging from art history to geography to sociology This book brings together more than fifty scholars from many disciplines to establish new ways of thinking about landscape in art The Jewish Ghetto and the Visual Imagination of Early Modern Venice Dana E. Katz, 2017-08-18 This book explores how the Jewish ghetto engaged the sensory imagination of Venice in complex and contradictory ways to shape urban space and reshape Christian Jewish relations

Islamic Gardens and Landscapes D. Fairchild Ruggles, 2011-12-30 Western admirers have long seen the Islamic garden as an earthly reflection of the paradise said to await the faithful However such simplification Ruggles contends denies the sophistication and diversity of the art form Islamic Gardens and Landscapes immerses the reader in the world of the architects of the great gardens of the Islamic world from medieval Morocco to contemporary India Just as Islamic culture is historically dense sophisticated and complex so too is the history of its built landscapes Islamic gardens began from the practical need to organize the surrounding space of human civilization tame nature enhance the earth's yield and create a legible map on which to distribute natural resources Ruggles follows the evolution of these early farming efforts to their aristocratic apex in famous formal gardens of the Alhambra in Spain and the Taj Mahal in Agra Whether in a humble city home or a royal courtyard the garden has several defining characteristics which Ruggles discusses Most notable is an enclosed space divided into four equal parts surrounding a central design element The traditional Islamic garden is inwardly focused usually surrounded by buildings or in the form of a courtyard Water provides a counterpoint to the portioned green sections Ranging across poetry court documents agronomy manuals and early garden representations and richly illustrated with pictures and site plans Islamic Gardens and Landscapes is a book of impressive scope sure to interest scholars and enthusiasts alike

Contemporary Urban Landscapes of the Middle East Mohammad Gharipour, 2016-03-17 The Middle East is well known for its historic gardens that have developed over more than two millennia The role of urban landscape projects in Middle Eastern cities has grown in prominence with a gradual shift in emphasis from gardens for the private sphere to an increasingly public function The contemporary landscape projects either designed as public plazas or public parks have played a significant role in transferring the modern Middle Eastern cities to a new era and also in transforming to a newly shaped social culture in which the public has a voice This book considers what ties these projects to their historical context and what regional and local elements and concepts have been used in their design

Transparency Daniel Jütte, 2023-03-28 A wide ranging illustrated history of transparency as told through the evolution of the glass window Transparency is a mantra of our day It is key to the Western understanding of a liberal society We expect transparency from for instance political institutions corporations and the media But how did it become such a powerful and global idea From ancient glass to Apple's corporate headquarters this book is the first to probe how Western people have experienced conceptualized and evaluated transparency Daniel Jütte argues that the experience of transparency has been inextricably linked to one element of Western architecture the glass window Windows are meant to be unnoticed Yet a historical perspective reveals the role that glass has played in shaping how we see and interpret the world A seemingly pure material glass has been endowed throughout history with political social and cultural meaning in manifold and sometimes conflicting ways At the same time Jtte raises questions about the future of vitreous transparency its costs in terms of visual privacy but also its ecological price tag in an age of accelerating climate change Company Suburbs Sarah Fayen Scarlett, 2023-08-18 Winner of the 2022 Fred B Kniffen Book Award from the International Society Landscape Place and Material Culture and the 2023 Abbott Lowell Cummings Award from the Vernacular Architecture Forum Michigan s Keweenaw Peninsula juts into Lake Superior pointing from the western Upper Peninsula toward Canada Native peoples mined copper there for at least five thousand years but the industrial heyday of the Copper Country began in the late nineteenth century as immigrants from Cornwall Italy Finland and elsewhere came to work in mines largely run from faraway cities such as New York and Boston In those cities suburbs had developed to allow wealthier classes to escape the dirt and grime of the industrial center In the Copper Country however the suburbs sprang up nearly adjacent to mines mills and coal docks Sarah Fayen Scarlett contrasts two types of neighborhoods that transformed Michigan s mining frontier between 1875 and 1920 paternalistic company towns built for the workers and elite suburbs created by the region s network of business leaders Richly illustrated with drawings maps and photographs Company Suburbs details the development of these understudied cultural landscapes that arose when elites began to build housing that was architecturally distinct from that of the multiethnic workers within the old company towns They followed national trends and created social hierarchies in the process but also uniquely incorporated pre existing mining features and adapted company housing practices This idiosyncratic form of suburbanization belies the assumption that suburbs and industry were independent developments Built environments evince interrelationships among landscapes people and power Scarlett s work offers new perspectives on emerging national attitudes linking domestic architecture with class and gender identity Company Suburbs complements scholarship on both industrial communities and early suburban growth increasing our understanding of the ways hierarchies associated with industrial capitalism have been built into the shared environments of urban areas as well as seemingly peripheral American towns
