The Poetics Of Science Fiction Textual Explorations:

The Poetics of Science Fiction Peter Stockwell, 2014-06-11 The Poetics of Science Fiction uniquely uses the science of linguistics to explore the literary universe of science fiction. Developing arguments about specific texts and movements throughout the twentieth century, the book is a readable discussion of this most popular of genres. It also uses the extreme conditions offered by science fiction to develop new insights into the language of the literary context. The discussion ranges from a detailed investigation of new words and metaphors to the exploration of new worlds from pulp science fiction to the genre's literary masterpieces, its special effects and poetic expression. Speculations and extrapolations throughout the book engage the reader in thought experiments and discussion points with selected further reading, making it a useful source book for classroom and seminar.

Irish Science Fiction Jack Fennell, 2014 An innovative examination of Irish science fiction from the 1850s to the present day, covering material written both in Irish and in English. Considering science fiction novels and short stories in their historical context, it analyses a body of literature that has largely been ignored by Irish literature researchers.

Language and Characterisation Jonathan Culpeper, 2014-07-23 Textual Explorations General Editors Mick Short, Lancaster University; Elena Semino, Lancaster University. The focus of this series is on the stylistic analysis of literary and non-literary texts and the theoretical issues which such work raises. Textual Explorations will include books that cover studies of literary authors, genres and other groupings; stylistic studies of non-literary texts; translation; the teaching of language and literature; the empirical study of literature and corpus approaches to stylistics and literature study. Books in the series will centre on texts written in English. Readership of the series is mainly undergraduate and postgraduate students, although advanced sixth formers will also find the books accessible. The series will be of particular interest to those who study English language, English literature, text linguistics, discourse analysis and communication studies.

Language Characterisation: People in Plays Other Texts explores how the words of a text create a particular impression of a character in the reader's mind. Drawing together theories from linguistics, social cognition and literary stylistics, it is the first book-length study to focus on the role of language and characterisation in the dialogue of play texts. Containing numerous examples from Shakespeare's plays, the book also considers a wide range of other genres, including prose fiction, verse, films, advertisements, jokes and newspapers. Language and Characterisation is as practical as it is theoretical and equips readers with analytical frameworks to reveal and explain both the cognitive and the linguistic sides of characterisation. Clear and detailed introductions are given to the theories and useful suggestions for further analysis are also made at the end of each part of the book. The book will be essential reading for students and researchers of language, literature and communication.

The Science Fiction of Poetics and the Avant-Garde Imagination Michael Golston, 2023-11-19 How the tropes of science fiction infuse and inform avant garde poetics and many other kindred arts This insightful playful monograph from Golston does exactly what it advertises modeling poetics based on how poetry and some parallel artistic endeavors has filtered through a century plus of science fiction This is not a book about science fiction in and of itself but it is a book about the resonances of science fiction tropes and ideas in poetic language The germ of Golston's project is a throwaway line in Robert Smithson's Entropy and the New Monuments about how cinema supplanted nature as inspiration for many of his fellow artists The movies give a ritual pattern to the lives of many artists and this induces a kind of low budget mysticism which keeps them in a perpetual trance Golston charts how the demotic appeal of sci fi much like that of the B movie cross pollinated into poetry and other branches of the avant garde Golston creates what he calls a regular Rube Goldberg machine of a critical apparatus drawing on Walter Benjamin Roman Jakobson and Gilles Deleuze He starts by acknowledging that per the important work of Darko Suvin to situate science fiction critically the genre is premised on cognitive estrangement But he is not interested in the specific nuts and bolts of science fiction as it exists but rather how science fiction has created a model not only for other poets but also for musicians and landscape artists Golston's critical lens moves around quite a bit but he begins with familiar enough subjects Edgar Rice Burroughs Mina Loy William S Burroughs From there he moves into more alien terrain Ed Dorn's long poem Gunslinger the discombobulated work of Clark Coolidge Sun Ra Ornette Coleman and Jimi Hendrix all come under consideration The result of Golston's restless rich scholarship is the first substantial monograph on science fiction and avant garde poetics using Russian Formalism Frankfurt School dialectics and Deleuzian theory to show how the avant garde inherently follows the parameters of sci fi in both theme and form

The Poetics of Scientific Investigation in Seventeenth-century England Claire Preston, 2015 This study examines the way that scientists in the 16th and 17th centuries who had not studied science formally used the tools of their literary education to formulate ideas about science and at the same time how the remarkable 17th century scientific developments inspired non scientific writers to make new fictions of discovery

Mind The Gap Peter Wilson,2014-06-03 We rarely speak or even write in the complete sentences that are often held to be the ideal form of linguistic communication Language is in fact full of gaps because speakers and writers operate in contexts which allow bits of language to be understood rather than expressed This book systematically analyses this inherent gappiness of language known as ellipsis and provides an account of the different contexts both linguistic and situational which affect its use Peter Wilson draws on a wide variety of examples of spoken and written English and both literary and non literary to present a comprehensive classification of elliptical language that ranges from the conversational fragment and the advertisement to the dialogue of Shakespeare and imagist poetry Mind the Gap shows how ellipsis is a feature of major structural and stylistic importance to our understanding of spoken and written language and will be of interest to undergraduate students of linguistics literature communication and the interrelations between them
