

How To Start Your Own Graphic Design Business

in 8 Simple Steps

1 Establish Plan

Before you can actually start your business, you need to know some key things about it, such as What is your business name? or What services do you provide?

2 But First... Contracts

Before going into business with a client, make sure that you have a comprehensive contract written up that details the conditions of your work with them.

3 Create a Logo

Logos are an important part of your graphic design business—often, they're what comes to mind when customers think of your business.

4 Market Your Services

You can create the most beautiful graphic designs in the world, but that's not going to help you if nobody knows about them. That's where marketing comes in.

5 File as a Business Entity

Usually, when forming a business entity, you need to file a form with the agency that handles business filings within your state. Typically, this is your secretary of state, but it might vary depending on the state you live in.

6 Manage Your Money

Use cloud-based accounting software. It is hosted online, meaning you'll be able to access your finances anywhere you go.

7 Establish an Online Presence

In this day and age, you need to have an online presence. Many companies choose to have a dedicated website as their digital storefront.

8 Last But Not Least... Provide Value!

Congratulations, you've made it to the final and most important step: provide value! This is, arguably, the most crucial part of beginning your own graphic design business.
