Myth in the Modern Novel Liisa Steinby, 2023-03-20 Myth in the Modern Novel Imagining the Absolute posits a twofold thesis First although Modernity is regarded as an era dominated by science and rational thought it has in fact not relinquished the hold of myth a more primitive form of thought which is difficult to reconcile with modern rationality Second some of the most important statements as to the reconcilability of myth and Modernity are found in the work of certain prominent novelists This book offers a close examination of the work of eleven writers from the late eighteenth century to the beginning of the twenty first representing German French American Czech and Swedish literature The analyses of individual novels reveal a variety of intriguing views of myth in Modernity and offer an insight into the modernizing transformations myth has undergone when applied in the modern novel The study shows the presence of the subconscious the mythic layer in modern western culture and how this has been dealt with in novelistic literature

Facing the Fiend Eva Marta Baillie, 2014-02-04 Satan is not a theological concept but a literary character Systematic and pastoral theology struggles with the existence of Satan and at the same time the devil inspires authors poets artists and musicians his true nature in art seems to be creative even though he is usually associated with destruction If we want to believe William Blake the true poet is of the devil s party without knowing it The various accounts of the devil in literature and art would certainly promote the theory that Satan himself is working on the side of the artist While the biblical canon leaves us with many open questions about Satan the literary canon gives more than enough definitions and interpretations of the devil Satan is a powerful literary figure the eternal adversary object and subject of the story Without any real substance he exists in the realm of the narrative being at the same time destroyer and creator Satan lends a face to what we experience as evil the absence of relation the exile of the soul the loss of identity the destruction of the other and the self
