Befreiung von Gewalt zum Leben in Frieden. Liberation from Violence for Life in Peace Ulrich Duchrow, Craig Nesson, 2015 This volume raises troubling questions about the heritage of the Reformation with respect to the Peasants War the Anabaptists Jews and Muslims The authors come from different churches Lutheran Mennonite and Reformed They analyze the limitations of the Reformation in their own historical context and offer constructive theological and ethical reflections to we achieve the challenges of global economic justice the groaning earth of radical commitment to peace and inter religious reconciliation Remembering Theologians - Doing Theology Dirkie Smit, 2013-10-01 Theology for me has always been about friendship whether with students postgraduate students colleagues ministers ecumenical believers from different traditions theologians from abroad or simply books and publications articles and sources This volume is a witness to some of these friends and some of these conversation partners dead and alive near and far like minded or from totally different backgrounds and persuasions I have met over several decades and with whom I have been privileged to engage doing theology Dirk J Smit The Crucifixion Fleming Rutledge, 2017-02-09 Few treatments of the death of Jesus Christ have made a point of accounting for the gruesome degrading public manner of his death by crucifixion a mode of execution so loathsome that the ancient Romans never spoke of it in polite society Rutledge probes all the various themes and motifs used by the New Testament evangelists and apostolic writers to explain the meaning of the cross of Christ She shows how each of the biblical themes contributes to the whole with the Christus Victor motif and the concept of substitution sharing pride of place along with Irenaeus's recapitulation model Systematic Theology Anthony C. Thiselton, 2015-10-21 In this concise one volume systematic theology celebrated scholar Anthony Thiselton comprehensively covers the spectrum of Christian doctrine with an eye to practical application for Christian discipleship Written with students and busy ministers in mind this book is readable and accessible comprising fifteen chapters of relatively equal length with each chapter containing five evenly balanced subsections for teaching and learning convenience Rather than setting out an abstract system Thiselton explores theology as a living organic whole The book thus includes biblical foundations historical thought contemporary writers and practical implications Expertly incorporating biblical exegesis philosophy conceptual grammar and hermeneutics this work is the most succinct multidisciplinary systematic theology available A History of Christian Thought: From the Protestant Reformation to the twentieth century Justo L. Gonzalez, 2010-09-01 A treatment of the evolution of Christian thought from the birth of Christ to the Apostles to the early church to the great flowering of Christianity across the world The final volume begins with the towering theological leaders of the Protestant Reformation and traces the development of Christian thought through its encounter with modernity Volume 2 9781426721915 Volume 1 9781426721892 Northern Ireland Enda McDonagh,1987 The Labyrinth of the World and the Paradise of the Heart Johann Amos Comenius,1998 Alongside Puritan and Pietist spirituality runs a virtually unknown stream of Slavic spirituality here represented by reformation leader John Amos Comenius 1592 1670 in his neglected masterpiece The Labyrinth of the World The House Where God Lives Gary D. Badcock,2009-09-15 In a culture dominated by the individualistic values of political and social liberalism Gary Badcock says that we seldom hear of the church as the creature of the Word of God The church has been entrusted to us by God and belongs to the structure of the Christian faith itself Ecclesiology is first of all theology because it is primarily about the presence of God Badcock maintains and is thus biblical and creedal one holy catholic and apostolic something that we believe which is what undergirds its empirical sociological and even pastoral function Rather than a hollow shell where humans dream moral dreams and do good deeds the church is the house where God lives Reading Is Believing David S. Cunningham,2002-11-01 In this fascinating and fresh look at the Apostles Creed David Cunningham argues that reading fiction and film can lead Christians to a deeper more precise and more experiential knowledge of their faith Drawing on novels plays and films by the likes of Dickens Shakespeare P D James and Graham Greene Cunningham discusses the Apostles Creed in detail using one primary text to illuminate each article Cunningham begins with a brief history of the Christian creeds and their significance In addition to plot summaries each chapter includes discussion questions addressing the relationship between literature and faith and concludes with a works cited list and a list for further reading This book will delight Christians who want to better understand the creeds and basic doctrinal confessions of the Christian faith While academics theologians and literature and film aficionados will celebrate Cunningham s keen literary and theological insights the book is equally readable for those with little background in these fields of study Reading Is Believing is an ideal text for Christian education classes adult Sunday school and church based book clubs It will serve well as a text in theology courses as well as various courses in the humanities ethics and cultural and religious studies Uniquely African? James Leland Cox,Gerrie ter Haar,2003 Concerning themselves with the problematic nature of African Christian identity the contributors to this book adopt various cultural historical national and educational perspectives in order to reflect on the problem of African identities in a world dominated by Western ideological and religious systems Church, State and Civil Society David Fergusson,2004-12-02 At a time when secular liberalism is in crisis and when the civic contribution of religion is being re assessed the rich tradition of Christian political theology demands renewed attention This book based on the 2001 Bampton Lectures explores the relationship of the church both to the state and civil institutions Arguing that theological approaches to the state were often situated within the context of Christendom and are therefore outmoded the author claims that a more differentiated approach can be developed by attention to the concept of civil society The book offers a critical assessment of the effect of the First Amendment in the USA and in a concluding chapter it defends the case for continuing disestablishment in England and Scotland
