

An abstract, painterly illustration in shades of blue, purple, and yellow. It depicts several figures, possibly in religious or historical attire, walking along a path that leads towards a bright, glowing light source at the top center. The style is expressive and somewhat ethereal, with visible brushstrokes and a dreamlike atmosphere. The figures are rendered in a sketchy, almost ethereal manner, with some appearing to be in motion or interacting with each other. The overall composition suggests a journey or a quest towards enlightenment or a divine presence.

The Oxford Handbook of Theology and Modern European Thought Nicholas Adams, George Pattison, Graham Ward, 2013-02-28 Modern European thought describes a wide range of philosophies cultural programmes and political arguments developed in Europe in the period following the French Revolution Throughout this period many of the wide range of modernisms and anti modernisms had a distinctly religious and even theological character not least when religion was subjected to the harshest criticism Yet for all the breadth and complexity of modern European thought and in particular its relations to theology a distinct body of themes and approaches recurred in each generation Moreover many of the issues that took intellectual shape in Europe are now global rather than narrowly European and for good or ill they form part of Europe's bequest to the world from colonialism and the economic theories behind globalisation through to democracy to terrorism This volume attempts to identify and comment on some of the most important of these The thirty chapters are grouped into six thematic parts moving from questions of identity and the self through discussions of the human condition the age of revolution the world both natural and technological and knowledge methodologies concluding with a section looking explicitly at how major theological themes have developed in modern European thought The chapters engage with major thinkers including Kant Hegel Kierkegaard Heidegger Schleiermacher Nietzsche Dostoevsky Barth Rahner Tillich Bonhoeffer Sartre de Beauvoir Wittgenstein and Derrida amongst many others Taken together these new essays provide a rich and reflective overview of the interchange between theology philosophy and critical thought in Europe over the past two hundred years The Oxford Handbook of Martin Luther's Theology Robert Kolb, Irene Dingel, Lubomír Batka, 2014-04-24 As celebrations of the five hundredth anniversary of Martin Luther's initiation of the most dramatic reform movement in the
