The Paradox Of Power From Control To Compassion:

The Paradox of Power Michael Crosby, 2008 Repair My House Michael H. Crosby, 2012 Repair my house From a crucifix in a ruined chapel St Francis heard this instruction which set him on a mission of evangelical renewal In the light of unprecedented crisis afflicting the Catholic church Michael Crosby calls us all to undertake a wholesale project of repair and renewal The crisis is visible in the sex abuse scandal and the questions it has raised about internal structures of authority and clerical culture Meanwhile a spate of new atheists has challenged traditional worldviews The percentage of those identifying themselves as former Catholics grows at an alarming rate In response Fr Crosby sees a challenge to return to the core evangelical message of Jesus Christ This message is supported not contradicted by discoveries in science and cosmology He envisions a new way of being Catholic and a set of practices that draws on the contemplative compassionate and life giving spirit of the Kingdom that God's will may be realized on earth as it is in heaven Living Nonviolently Gabriel Moran, 2011-03-31 Are human beings naturally violent Is war the fate of the human race Despite the depressing record of the past the world's future depends upon avoiding war and drastically reducing violence Living Nonviolently Language for Resisting Violence examines carefully the language of violence and war One of the first casualties of violence is language which in turn makes resistance to violence difficult to articulate In the first four chapters Gabriel Moran proposes distinctions for the interconnected ideas of force power aggressiveness violence and war not to invent a new and logical language but to ground the meaning of these terms in our human experience That revitalization of ordinary language depends upon an inclusive language of men and women adults and children human and nonhuman animals The fifth chapter locates the potential for both encouraging violence and resisting violence in the peculiar logic of religion Jesus Sermon on the Mount is commonly invoked by people who say that nonviolence may be an admirable ideal for a few people but it is irrelevant for most people and for all nations in this chapter Moran examines the widely misunderstood sermon in detail to illustrate its potential for resisting violence For a conclusion he discusses practical means of education that are helpful to reaching some understanding of violence and resistance to violence Living Nonviolently is written for scholars in peace studies political philosophy or religious studies and for anyone who wishes to understand the roots of violence and war

J Schultz Organizational Compassion Ace Volkmann Simpson, Miguel Pina e Cunha, Stewart Clegg, Arménio Rego, Marco Berti, 2024-03-14 Organizational compassion provides a multitude of benefits at individual team and organizational levels These encompass heightened positive affect trust engagement loyalty performance resilience and recovery This important book provides an accessible yet scholarly overview of key academic findings and theories on organizational compassion It equips readers with tools for reflection awakening and practical application of compassion within the workplace across dyadic team and organizational contexts Historically compassion work has been largely unacknowledged in official organizational discourse Yet wherever there are human beings there will be suffering where there is human suffering one can often find human responses infused with kindness and compassion This observation holds true across industries professions and communities The book explores the complexities of organizational compassion analyzing the factors that enhance organizational compassion capabilities as well as those that make compassion falter and fail The primary aim of this book is to foster the cultivation of organizational compassion by providing a provocative stimulating and engaging foray into the academic study of organizational compassion for readers ranging from undergraduate to postgraduate and executive students as well as reflective practitioners In a world marked by suffering and challenges a research based understanding and fostering of compassion at work offers a path towards a better future Paradox and Power in Caring Leadership Leah Tomkins, 2020-03-28 Why does it matter that our leaders care about us What might we reasonably expect from a caring leader and what price are we prepared to pay for it Is caring leadership something soft or can it be linked to strategy and delivery International scholars from the fields of ancient and modern philosophy psychology organization studies and leadership development offer a strikingly original debate on what it means for leaders to care Compassion: From Neuroscience to New Horizons and Innovative, Inclusive Research Agendas Kathryn Waddington, Julian Manley, Trudi Edginton, Jason Kanov, 2024-01-11 The nature and science of compassion encompasses many aspects of human behavior social and organizational experience with resultant debate about its definition meaning and application Research theorizing and scholarship is spread across a wide range of methodological disciplinary historical and cultural perspectives including psychology sociology psychosocial studies organizational science inter national politics and evolutionary studies Global concerns relating to the climate crisis COVID 19 pandemic and mass movements of displaced people all point to an urgent need for compassion in all human interactions New and innovative interdisciplinary approaches agendas and paradigms are needed to both compliment and critique existing understandings of the meaning and applications of compassion in all its diverse and complex forms In a world where there appears to be increasing demand for simplification and quantification from governments and policy makers questions must be asked about what this means for psychology and social science research The tendency towards post positivist reductionism has led to critiques that universities have become factories that produce sterile derivative unimaginative writing 21st century universities have been described as anxiety machines lacking in compassion and creating more competition and stress than knowledge Arguably research into compassion should take place in compassionate disciplinary and institutional cultures We all have a role to play in addressing the lack of compassion in universities which will involve an institutional level shift from individual level competition to group level collaboration Importantly recent advances in compassion research promise gains in understanding in both the science and neuroscience of human experience and in applications of that work to improve humankind and the world around us Qualitative research in psychology and psychosocial approaches although becoming more visible still remain a minority endeavor within the discipline This Research Topic offers the opportunity to foreground the values and virtues of qualitative psychology alongside more tried and tested approaches
