The Non-Technical Founder Josh MacDonald, 2018-04-03 Everyone has an idea that they think is the next big thing The problem is it's probably an app or software idea and most people probably don't know how to code and their record for managing programmers is little to none Even if they do know how to code they're not quite sure how to get their first one thousand customers The Non Technical Founder walks readers through the stages of validating whether their next big thing is good bringing the idea to life and getting those first customers Film Authorship in Contemporary Transmedia Culture Wikanda Promkhuntong, 2025-10-01 Film Authorship in Contemporary Transmedia Culture The Paratextual Lives of Asian Auteurs examines film authorship in the transmedia era whereby film directors have become public figures through a wide range of textual material and performative practices The book draws on the notion of paratext and its related term palimpsest to bring forth the idea of self reflexive authorship as a method of examining the mediated past present and afterlife of East Asian filmmakers The first part of the book pays attention to materials surrounding film festivals multi platform distribution and cinephile fan creative practices which have been created rewritten and shared to foster and problematize the reputations of selected filmmakers The second part examines alternative modes of self projections and creative productions that address the filmmakers sense of selves and relations with the industry and the public Across different chapters discourses surrounding film authorship and East Asian cinema are revisited and expanded to highlight its multiple histories and possible futures Social Computing and Social Media Adela Coman, Simona Vasilache, 2024-05-31 This book constitutes the refereed proceedings of the 16th International Conference on Social Computing and Social Media SCSM 2024 held as part of the 26th HCI International Conference HCII 2024 which took place in Washington DC USA during June 29 July 4 2024 The total of 1271 papers and 309 posters included in the HCII 2024 proceedings was carefully reviewed and selected from 5108 submissions The SCSM 2024 proceedings were organized in the following topical sections Part I Designing developing and evaluating social media user experience and user behavior in social media AI and language models in social media Part II Social media in learning education and culture social media in business and ecommerce Part III Computer mediated communication social media for community society and democracy The Primer of Principles, the Organic Maxims of All Systems of Procedure William Taylor Hughes, 1931 Rise of the Far Right Melody Devries, Judith Bessant, Rob Watts, 2021-07-29 After decades on the social and political margins far right groups and movements are enjoying increasing success and even claiming a place in mainstream electoral politics in many Western political systems Research shows that new media like Twitter YouTube and community sites like 4chan and Reddit are increasingly involved with the mobilization of popular support for far right electoral campaigns and even organized political violence These technologies including other social media discussion websites certain online games chat servers talk radio cable news and print media are making contemporary far right ideologies possible in diverse ways altering methods of recruitment to the extent that they become unrecognizable from far right movements of the past and thus more dangerous The results of these new technological processes can be seen in the increasing normalization of far right values within mainstream culture politics and media ecosystems within countries from the United States Britain Australia Germany and Hungary This book brings together recent academic research exploring how far right groups use new media to recruit followers to extremist beliefs and mobilize political action In doing so the book reveals the complex ways that evolving technologies are used both purposively subtly and in some cases incidentally to recruit and mobilize far right support

Gaming Democracy Adrienne L. Massanari,2024-10-29 How play and gaming culture have mainstreamed far right ideology through social media platforms From Gamergate to the ongoing Big Lie the far right has gone mainstream In Gaming Democracy Adrienne Massanari tracks the flames of toxicity found in the far right and alt right movements as they increasingly take up oxygen in American and global society In this pathbreaking contribution to the fields of internet studies game studies and gender studies Massanari argues that Silicon Valley s emphasis on meritocracy and free speech absolutism has driven this rightward slide These ideologies have been coded into social media spaces that implicitly silence marginalized communities and subject them to rampant abuse by groups that have learned to game the ecology of platforms algorithms and attention economies While populist movements are not new phenomena such as QAnon parental rights activism and COVID denialism are uniquely of the internet with supporters demonstrating both technical acumen and an ability to use memes and play as a way of both building community and fomenting dissent Massanari explores the ways that the far right uses memetic humor and geek masculinity as tools both to create a sense of community within these leaderless groups and to obfuscate their intentions Using the lens of play and game studies as well as the concept of metagaming Gaming Democracy is a novel contribution to our understanding of online platforms and far right political activism

Property Rights in Outer Space Matthew Johnson, 2024-05-28

This book explores the role of private mining rights in the utopian imaginary of space colonisation. It presents a transdisciplinary account of the new and evolving legislative frameworks that have been established in anticipation of commercial exploitation of the mineral resources of the off world frontier. Written in an engaging style, the book investigates a novel case study in the history of capitalism and the commons: the emergence of a nascent space mining industry undergirded by a contentious legislative framework. In 2015, the US passed laws that would recognise the claims of US corporations to own and sell space resources. This unilateral act of pre-emptive law making would appear to contravene the terms of the UN Outer Space Treaty 1967, which declared that the exploration and use of outer space should be for the benefit of all mankind and not subject to national appropriation. Using this central dynamic between privately held mining rights and outer space as a global commons, Matthew Johnson constructs a historical sociology of space mining from the deep historical roots of common and private property to the contemporary networks of neoliberalism that have engaged with the commercialisation of space activity. The anticipatory expansion of private property claims beyond the Earth both resonates with and problematises the terrain of political history, such as the tensions between states and markets, public law and private power, the commons and exclusive property. The emerging cosmopolitics of off world private property mirrors and is often explicitly embedded within neoliberal geopolitics, prompting urgent questions about how we can reaffirm principles of democracy and common heritage in the international laws of Earth and space. This book is compelling reading for anyone interested in the social study of space law, economics, technology, politics and property rights.
