Furniture of Spanish New Mexico Alan C. Vedder, 1977 Traditional Spanish New Mexican furniture can best be characterized as simple having straight lines and good honest proportions all of which give these pieces a particular type of dignity As is true of other handmade objects in a given society furniture made in New Mexico mirrored the lives of New Mexicans in the 18th and 19th centuries isolation and a rugged existence The earliest furniture was made for churches and a few rich families Even well into the 19th century the average home was devoid of pieces considered common today chairs tables and beds The author regards the traditional period in Spanish New Mexican furniture to begin about 1776 and extend until almost 1900 The pieces in this book illustrate the important contributions made by the Spanish in the 18th and 19th centuries to this form of the decorative arts

A New Dictionary of the Spanish and English Languages ,1823 The Making of New World Slavery Robin Blackburn,2010-08-02 The Making of New World Slavery argues that independent commerce geared to burgeoning consumer markets was the driving force behind the rise of plantation slavery The baroque state sought successfully to feed upon this commerce and with markedly less success to regulate slavery and racial relations To illustrate this thesis Blackburn examines the deployment of slaves in the colonial possessions of the Portuguese the Spanish the Dutch the English and the French Plantation slavery is shown to have emerged from the impulses of civil society not from the strategies of individual states Robin Blackburn argues that the organization of slave plantations placed the West on a destructive path to modernity and that greatly preferable alternatives were both proposed and rejected Finally he shows that the surge of Atlantic trade predicated on the murderous toil of the plantations made a decisive contribution to both the Industrial Revolution and the rise of the West
